FARTS and PILES

ASSHOLE OF THE MONTH

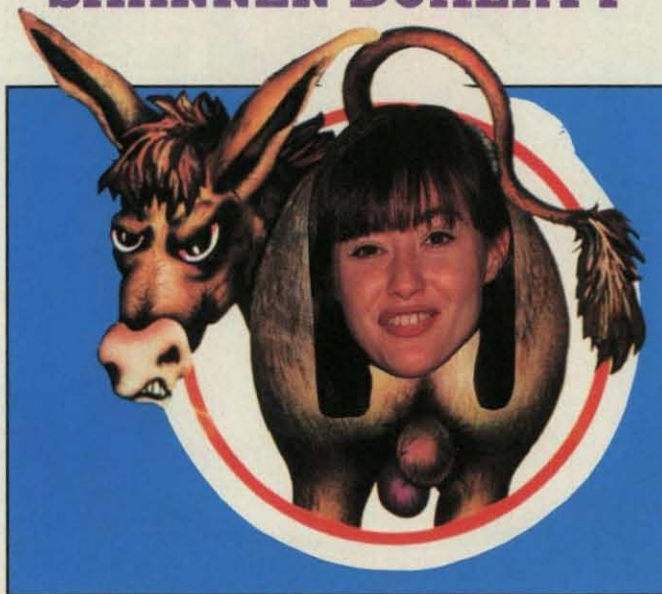

Question: When is a single hole actually two distinct and separate body parts?

Answer: When that hole is named Shannen Doherty, an animate orifice who, beyond being a simple cunt, is also HUSTLER Magazine's Asshole of the Month for October 1993.

That Shannen Doherty has become an international celebrity is an even greater freak occurrence than is her physical appearance. At 5-2, she stands slightly taller than a dwarf. She has no breasts to speak of, a somewhat flat ass and the hands of a grubby, grasping child. Her face, apparently a genetically engineered outward warning of imbalance within, is a skewed mask with the right eye disturbingly lower than the left, nostrils unevenly flared and a mouth permanently twisted in the beginnings of a sneer. To the discerning eye, Doherty looks like a cunningly cosmeticized monster. Judging from Miss October Asshole's much publicized fiendishness, appearances are not deceiving.

Though she'd kept it largely hidden from the greater public until then, Doherty's evil freakishness was prominently displayed when she led such vile grotesqueries of her ilk as Patrick "Gorgon" Buchanan and Robert "Flip Arm" Dole in the Pledge of Allegiance at the 1992 Republican National Convention. Doherty's brief stint as mascot to that gang of Bill of Rights-bashing thugs, doubtlessly inspired by the prissy moralisms of character Brenda Walsh as portrayed by Doherty on TV's Beverly Hills 90210, was followed by a deluge of "image-control problems."

In the wake of her bad press, the Republican party has abandoned any plans to use Doherty as a family-values poster girl.

Money problems have dogged Doherty through the tabloids. With a documented weekly salary of $17,500, the 22-year-old cathodetube personality was sued by California United Bank for the sum of $31,628.16 in bad checks written in 1991. Though she drives a $30,000 black BMW, two leased Mercedeses have reportedly been repossessed, and a former manager, an ex-publicist and a past landlord all claim to have payments due from the stumpy, dumpy brunette.

The complaints from Doherty's severed financial relationships sound like the sentiments of a loving separation compared to the pained gnashings of her dumped fiances. "Things go along smoothly for a while," is about the kindest thing Chris Foufas—two fiances back—has to say about Shannen, "and then something snaps, and she goes into another drive: rage."

In an attempt to slow the spiral of her toilet-bowl publicity, huffy and puffy Doherty assured the show-biz press: "My boyfriend and I are both sort of through with doing the nightclub scene and partying and drinking.... I was a little lost. I was young and under a lot of pressure and unhappy in my personal relationship. I don't have that problem anymore."

After these assurances of stability, Dean Factor, Doherty's most recently ditched husband-to-be, petitioned the Superior Court of California for a domestic-violence restraining order against Doherty, claiming the reformed bad girl had menaced him with a loaded nine-millimeter automatic and promised to hire some guys to beat him up and sodomize him "on the front lawn." Presumably, these guys would take payment in the form of a check.

Along with the Factor escapade, Doherty's renunciation of partying and alcohol was followed by a Dallas bar-and-grill manager's observation that Doherty engaged in a bout of heavy drinking and "puked at her table."

Nausea seems to emanate from Doherty, with an increasing segment of the viewing masses sick of her. Accounts of Doherty's hostile prima donnaism are so prevalent that a cottage industry has sprung up around the aversion for her. Entrepreneurs are making hate money off a national I Hate Brenda newsletter and an album of songs disparaging the actress and her character.

Although there's always room for more sphincters in Doherty's profession, if her rep gets much worse, image-conscious Playboy may withdraw its $300,000 offer to photograph Doherty nude.

Don't worry, Shannen. Come to HUSTLER. We know how an Asshole deserves to be treated, and we promise to do you right.

Donald Trump: Although competition is supposedly the life blood of the capitalist system, Atlantic City, New Jersey, casino magnate Donald Trump has filed a lawsuit to prevent a New Jersey tribe of American Indians from opening gambling halls on reservation lands. Trump claims that Indian gambling outlets violate the U.S. Constitution and, more to the point, threaten his own businesses. Trump's a lock to be an Asshole, you bet.

Farts in the Wind

Eileen Hirst: Chief of Staff for San Francisco's sheriff, one of Hirst's letters to HUSTLER attorneys while arranging our upcoming interview of Night Stalker Richard Ramirez managed to get quoted in the San Francisco Examiner: "I cannot refrain from telling you that having to spend time accommodating a magazine that exists to denigrate women and sensationalize the horror of the crimes of which Mr. Ramirez has been convicted is personally offensive to me. Ain't the First Amendment a wonderful thing?" Yes, it certainly is—even for Assholes such as Hirst.

That Time of the Month

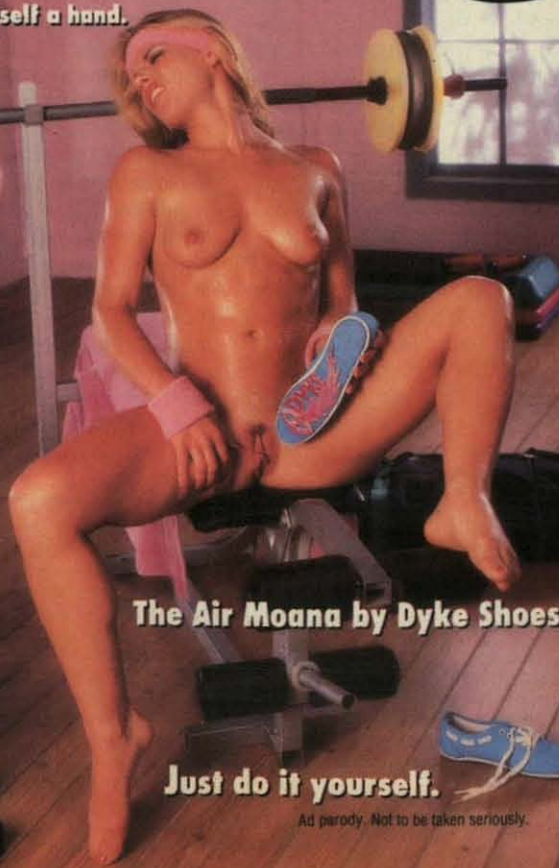

Anger, denial, bargaining, depression and acceptance. Is she dying? No, it's just that time of the month! Celebrate the bloody cycle that makes women crazy and offers men the consolation that, once again, at least she's not pregnant.

A must for any collector, this absorbing slice-of-life is captured on fine porcelain and playfully depicts a woman's monthly visit from her blood relative. Designed by French artist/gynecologist O. B. Plugger, the larger-than-life scene gives men new appreciation for their dicks and, when displayed by the front door, effectively discharges unwanted guests. Only 444 will be printed, one for every menstrual cycle the average woman endures in her lifetime. To order this wonderful period of biology, simply stare at this ad for a good hour, and the plate will magically appear—everywhere you look!

you want to come.

Fact. A bottle of imported gin. 47.3% Alc/Vol., makes women horny 100% of the time, or maybe it doesn't, but then she's in no position to argue. Gin also makes a woman's puke nearly odorless. All the proof a lonely guy needs for a perfect night.

FRUIT OF THE WOMB

MOM

HUSTLER is proud to present the first mother-daughter Beaver Hunt tandem in magazine history. More than good looks run in this family; they're both from San Diego, California. Mom's name is Megan; she's 44 years old and works in sales. Her hobbies include "sex, sex and more sex," and her fantasy involves ten men and several dry towels. She named her offspring Tami, who's a 23-year-old housewife. Tami digs bike riding and would love to "make it" in a hot-air balloon. Thanks for splitting hairs and giving us a peek inside the family loins.

SPAWN

To some, the word honey refers to a sweet, sticky substance that comes from a hole in a tree. A HUSTLER Honey, however, gives wood instead of dripping from it. Before we popularized the term, there were several famous movie characters who embodied the essence of sweetness. Take a sticky stroll down memory lane as we celebrate the...

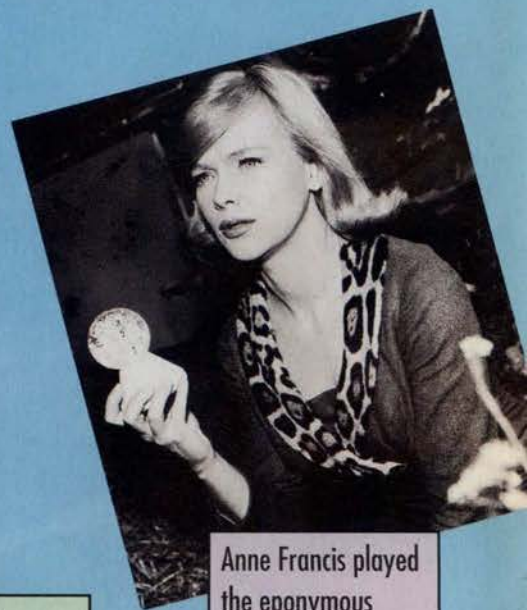

HONEY HALL OF FAME

Valerie Perrine showed her best side as stripper Honey Bruce in Lenny.

The stunning Ursula Andress fondled more than shells as Honey Ryder, James Bond's ingenue in Dr. No.

Anne Francis played the eponymous Honey West, the shapeliest sleuth in television history.

Make Any Woman Nude Instantly!

That's right. For years, men have made fools of themselves for the sole purpose of seeing chicks naked. HUSTLER makes it simple for you. Just follow these instructions.

Find a picture of a woman. We've always wanted to see Dolly Parton's tits. First, steal a felt-tipped marker.

Next, draw semicircles under her breasts, and dots where her nipples should be. Using the inverted triangle pattern made famous by ancient, drunken Egyptians, color in the pussy.

Isn't Dolly hot?

Now, let's see millionaire sexpot Tori Spelling nude. It's fun, and most importantly, it's safe.

Read Her Lips

It's not easy being a man, trying to find the right woman to love, honor and fuck the shit out of. Problem is, women can't always be taken at face value. Sometimes a man needs to read between the thighs and learn the secrets only her pussy can share.

What She Says.

I'm an 18-year-old virgin. I've never even seen a cock.

I won't sleep with just anyone. I'm very choosy.

It's true! I'm really a natural blonde.

What It Says.

Yeah, a cock under five inches. Bring along a no-pest strip and proceed with caution.

Her problem is choosing which guy fucks her asshole and which stuffs her twat. Her apartment is conveniently located near an all-hours HIV test clinic.

A natural, blond liar. An old-fashioned type, she'll fall for any guy who's just won $10 million in the lottery. She can be ditched easily at a matinee showing of Dumbo.

HUSTLER INTERVIEW: SHARON STONE'S CUNT

a candid conversation with the most obtuse and annoying crack in California since the San Andreas fault, about blood, sweat, & smears

HUSTLER: Is it true you were angered by the final cuts of Sharon's movies Basic Instinct and Sliver?

CUNT: Angry? I was fucking pissed! I was tricked into exposing myself on camera. There I am for the whole world to see, yet I had no co-star billing, even though I was the most interesting thing in those horrible flicks.

HUSTLER: Hollywood insiders have long called Sharon herself a cunt. How does that make you feel?

CUNT: I feel neglected. I am the cunt. I am her talent.

HUSTLER: Is that why you're finally breaking your press silence?

CUNT: Yes. I'm sick to death of her blabbering about feminism. Meanwhile, she flashes the goddamn Playboy photographers at the slightest drop of a thousand-dollar bill. What bullshit! That's why I'm flapping my lips in HUSTLER about what a bore it is to hear her mouth every goddamn day.

HUSTLER: You must have laughed when she said, "If you have a vagina and a point of view, that's a deadly combination."

CUNT: What she actually said was, "It's a deadly combination to have a vagina with a point of view." The only thing deep about her is me. She has more veins than brains, and you can see those every time she bares her scraggy tits; no offense, my little bosom friends.

HUSTLER: How do you spend your off days?

CUNT: Not getting there, that's for sure. I haven't seen her thumb in months, and we used to be so close. Now I'm usually stuck on a goddamn vinyl vanity chair, while Ms. Priss sits in front of a mirror trying to scrape away her facial lines with sandpaper. No amount of plastic surgery is going to save her a year from now.

HUSTLER: How old is she?

CUNT: Put it this way: Helen Hayes was her idol as a kid.

HUSTLER: Would you say her fame is fleeting?

CUNT: Listen, I'm no spring chicken anymore. Are you going to want to see my lips when they hang down like a goddamn turkey wattle? No. As soon as she loses the beauty between her chunky thighs, she's history.

HUSTLER: So, what happens to you then?

CUNT: Lately I've been thinking of getting into production.

HUSTLER: Production?

CUNT: Yeah, I think I'd be great at producing yeast. I could leave a little pile of greenish cunt-puke in the director's chair. It would be my trademark.

HUSTLER: You sound bitter. Are you resentful of her success?

CUNT: What is that, a joke? I earned her the publicity. I earned her the $4 million per picture! But do I feel any silk tampons? Do

I get a solid-gold dildo shoved inside me? Fuck no! She refuses to acknowledge that I have made her what she is today.

HUSTLER: And what is she?

CUNT: A goddamn egomaniac with little talent and little brains. And I'm not alone in these sentiments. Talk to her breasts, her butt, her legs. They all feel the same resentment. How dare she talk about brains. No one can see her brains.

HUSTLER: Do you feel she's used you to get ahead?

CUNT: She's used me to get head. She's an icy bitch who'd never get fucked if it wasn't for my natural warmth with people.

HUSTLER: Who has she fucked?

CUNT: You'll have to wait for my book of quiffs. For now, let's just say she gets the attention, and I'm left holding the pricks.

HUSTLER: Give us a little inside dirt.

CUNT: You want inside dirt? Look no further. Everyone knows Sharon's movies are calculated publicity stunts, and her media rantings are embarrassing and idiotic; but you know what really stinks about her career—me. She's trying to destroy me. Sometimes she wipes backward after a pee. She wants me to get infected because, deep inside, she knows I'm her yellow-brick road. Jealous bitch!

"I think it was Kierkegaard who said, 'Show me a woman, and I'll show you a cunt.' See what I mean?"

"I was so nervous for that interrogation scene, I must have quiffed ten times. The crew members called me 'Chirpy.' "

"...then he ran his tongue along my cervix and said, 'I'll bet you make a great guacamole dip.' "

STRAIGHT UP

First, our dear President lifts the ban on gays in our military, and now, according to the letter in HUSTLER's Feedback from D. O., we have punks coming out of the closet on Death Row ("Where Indeed?," Feedback, August '93). What next? D. O. cries about the officials on Florida's Death Row not letting him receive "transsexual magazines" so he can look at some dicks. What a shame! No wonder they're killing us left and right around here!

Some of us real motherfuckers want to set the record straight. Not everyone here on the Row is a freak like D. O., who says he wants to look at chicks with dicks when in all actuality he wants to look at dudes with tits! Punks like this need only to drop their own drawers to see chicks with dicks! If D. O. is worried about his First Amendment rights, why doesn't he truly exercise them and come out of the closet? We're sure that once he's done that, he'll have more than enough real cock in his face to handle around here, and he won't want HUSTLER to change the great standards of their publication! Let's see if you print this letter, as you did that punk's!

—The Beast, Mercy and Terrible T
Raiford, Florida

BEAUTIFUL MOMENT

I am writing Feedback in hopes that maybe HUSTLER Magazine can help me. My husband is in prison, and every month I buy him a copy of HUSTLER and send it to him. Before I mail it, I read it myself. I really enjoy the Hot Letters section. It always make me hot! But let me be frank. I love my husband dearly, but he gets scared that I might not be true to him. I can't do much to prove my loyalty, because of our circumstances. I'm hoping HUSTLER prints this so he can see how much he means to me. I love you, Kim! I always have, and I always will!

And thank you, HUSTLER, for all of the "stimulating" reading! You're a great mag, and I love your sense of humor. Keep up the good work! —C. B.

Mount Carmel, Illinois

HERE'S JOHNNY

I got in a car wreck two years ago. And since I got out of prison about one year ago, my grandma has been my payee for my food stamps and my $432 monthly disability. That bitch has taken away all my money for about one year now. What can I do? I know you don't have an answer, but I wanted to let you know about it. —Johnny
Eugene, Oregon

RAGING MOOSE

Hey, jerkoffs! You stunned cunts made some comments on a letter from T. G. of Codroy, Canada, that I have a hard time ignoring ("Canadian Missed," Feedback, June '93)! Yeah, we do have screwed rag censorship laws up here. So what? I can go to any strip club in Canada and have a peeler stick her bare slit in my face, which is more than I can say from what I've seen south of the border! Christ, if I wanted to see a pair of tits bouncing around, I could turn on my TV and watch public broadcasting, but I suppose America isn't ready for all that yet. Your absurd patriotism and self-righteous attitudes just go to show how ignorant you Yanks really are!

In future, it might help your credibility if you knew what the fuck you cock gobblers were talking about. I don't expect you to print my comments. If you do, I'll give you some credit, but I don't really give a shit either way. I like to shoot my load into your mag more than I like to read it. You dweebs made Asshole of the Month up here!

—A. B.
Ottawa, Canada

Say what you will about HUSTLER, A. B., but America makes schnooks of Canucks!

GOOD READ

I recently saw an issue of HUSTLER Magazine dated September 1988. It was one of the most offensive things I've ever seen. Such gross photographs are not enjoyable; they're an insult to one's intelligence. It is possible to be sexy and erotic without showing closeups of people's private parts. I think it also puts down women. They're not just bodies. They have feelings and needs; they're people. You guys seem to have totally ignored other ways to show beautiful women. There's lingerie, swimsuits, exercise wear, undergarments, skirts and dresses. The pictures you show are only for perverts.

I also didn't like your comic strips. The jokes revolve around genitals, body wastes and sex. I didn't find them the least bit funny. I've enjoyed cartoons ever since childhood, and it was a shame to see something so stupid and disgusting. It's enough to make a person vomit.

I am 23 years old. I like women, and I like comics, but not the kind you people publish. If this is the kind of vulgarity you're involved with, I don't want to have anything to do with it. You people ought to be ashamed to be distributing something so ugly.

Never has HUSTLER's editorial agenda been put so clearly and succinctly into words, J. M. You've saved us a lot of time, now that our application for Pulitzer consideration's coming due. Thanks!

TWO FOR ONE

Where in the fuck has Texas been hiding 23-year-old Anne and 31-year-old naughty Nichole (Beaver Hunt, April '93). These two beautiful ladies came out of the closet just in time. Nichole, you have an incredible ass. I'd love to make beads of sweat cascade down your butt and lick them away!

DOWN ON THE DOWNSIDE

I'm writing about the Feedback letter in HUSTLER's July 1993 issue from the con in Alabama ("Inside Downside," Feedback, July '93). I'm also locked up, in Missouri. This soft-ass place didn't come near to making your list in Hell Times Ten (Hell Times Ten: The Ten Toughest Prisons in America, April '93), but it's no treat.

That bro in Atmore, Alabama, is describing the prison system as it really is. There have been at least three heart-attack victims that have died here, whose deaths are entirely due to the lazy, uneducated staff they have working in these dumps.

The medical people here think that aspirin is the cure-all wonder drug. And if that's not enough, complainants have to put in for sick call, and that usually takes weeks. So, if you're gonna get sick, you have to plan it at least two weeks in advance. If it's an emergency, well, your ass is out. Less than a month ago, there were two heroin ODs here the same night. Because of staff, one guy died. The other dude was saved because another inmate gave him CPR, and what thanks did he get? Well, he's sitting in the hole with me awaiting transfer to a maximum prison. Prisons treat inmates like shit, and the prison system is fucked up. Like the guy in Alabama said, we're paying for our mistakes, but we still have families and are living human beings, treated like cattle. It's fucked up.

EYE CONTACT

I'm an avid reader of HUSTLER Magazine with a complaint about some of your pictorials. I'd like to see your models look into the camera more, and please also make them keep their eyes open. Otherwise, I think HUSTLER Magazine is first-rate. I'd also like you to have more buttshot shots with the models looking at the camera.

BIKE LIKER

The pictorial of cyclist Effie (Effie: Flesh Mountains, July '93) in your July 1993

SHOCK TALK

Thanks for printing the article and pictures of readers' most-requested photos in your July 1993 issue (HUSTLER's Most Wanted Flashbacks, July '93). I loved it, especially the Texas Tunnel ("Sissy," Beaver Hunt, January '90), Helga (Helga: Lust in the Twilight Years, June '85) and Belle of the Ball (Belle of the Ball, May '78). Please keep shocking us! It's great!

HUNG AND ORIENTAL

I'm a sailor in the U.S. Navy, and I'm an Asian. I've been reading HUSTLER for a while, and I'm tired of you bashing Asian private parts and stereotyping Asian girls as cheap sex objects. It's a fact that can be backed up by my shipmates that I get more pussy of all colors than most of my friends of other races combined. In the July 1993 issue there's a joke about the pitiful smallness of Asian dicks (page

EDITED BY SCOTT MALLORY

PUSSYMAN 1 AND 2

Fully Erect. Directed by David Christopher; starring Summer Knight, Melanie Moore, Tiffany Mynx, Madison, Lynn Lemay, Lili Xene, Joey Silver, Tom Byron, Leanna Foxxx, Bianca, Rebecca Bardoux, Brandy Alexandre, Porsche Lynn, Randy West, Nasty Natasha, Steve Drake and Marc Wallace. Videocassette: Coast to Coast.

Moore's clit clip squeezes the viewer in glistening, fragrant lust.

Although it's recommended that both parts of this search for the ultimate pussy be watched in one sitting, Pussyman isn't the diluted ripoff we've come to expect from two-volume porn movies. A little more care in direction and editing would have made this a spectacular one-tape movie, but there is very little padding in either of the two parts—"The Search" and "The Prize"—and every sex scene is a scorcher. Director David Christopher is at home with his nose buried in the wet-lipped object of his perversion. He happily admits to blatantly stealing concepts and techniques from John "Buttman" Stagliano and the infamously filthy Gregory Dark. The influence of both directors is felt throughout Pussyman, but Christopher has done his mentors one better, taking video sex to another level, creating an atmosphere of moist, fragrant cunt that floats heavily from the screen to surround the viewer in a glistening, pink envelope of lust. The effect of Pussyman is akin to a HUSTLER centerfold stepping out of the magazine to serve in the flesh.

—Scott Mallory

Madison, Natasha and Bianca help Byron find the ultimate pussy.

O'Connell doesn't have a problem with New cock.

Raunch: Cash cradles balls in her cushiony lips.

No Hard plot is necessary during a five-girl orgy.

NEW WAVE HOOKERS 3

Fully Erect. Directed by Gregory Dark; starring Crystal Wilder, Jon Dough, Tiffany Million, Rocco Siffredi, Brittany O'Connell, Marc Wallace, P. J. Sparxx, Danyel Cheeks, Lacy Rose and Francesca Le. Videocassette: VCA.

The third installment of director Gregory Dark's signature series, New Wave Hookers 3 has a few problems not usually associated with a Fully Erect rating: a story that is awkward and haphazardly staged, lighting that wants to be atmospheric but is just too shadowy and a boring soundtrack. Less of a detriment is the fact that Crystal Wilder gets boned one too many times, while there's a lot of slutty window-dressing that doesn't get fucked at all. These flaws become merely minor irritants under a barrage of the dirtiest sex Dark has ever shot. With Nikki Dial sticking her big toe in Wilder's asshole, Rocco Siffredi fucking Danyel Cheeks in the eye, cum filling high heels and dripped on slurping tongues, Lacy Rose suffocating Jon Dough with her pussy, Tiffany Million gang-banged by a gaggle of quacking duckmen and Siffredi spitting down Wilder's throat, this movie is fucking filthy. Adding to the pleasure are some genuine laughs, Dough's solid lead performance and Siffredi proving he can act almost as well as he sticks his fingers into a woman's mouth. —S. M.

RAUNCH 6: FRENCH KISS

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by F. J. Lincoln; starring Tabatha Cash, Tom Byron, Sunset Thomas, Peter North, Micky Lynn, Rex Morrison and Tina Tyler. Videocassette: Coast to Coast.

Porn viewers are asked to accept a lot of unlikely propositions—such as the internal cum-shot, bimbos and recidivists portraying members of upper-echelon society, and Ron Jeremy as a human—but the smut audience's disbelief has seldom been so suspended as by the premise of French Kiss: that Tom Byron, pierced nipples and all, is a shy virgin. Luckily, the lie does not obscure such facts as Sunset Thomas's saucy tongue popping out of her sweet baby-girl face as she sucks and strokes a pulsing bone; a close-cropped chick in leather corset sinking snatch onto Byron's face as though his mug were some kind of vaginal-support hammock; slinky exotic Tabatha Cash's payoff nipples as a bout of lesbo tongue-wrestling with Thomas goes into dildo overdrive; and the camera sneaking up from under Byron's ball sac as he drills pay dirt with Cash, fucking her up a flight of stairs until she cradles his flexed testicles in her cushiony lips, giving his nuts and Raunch 6 a tongue-fluttering French Kiss off. —Christian Shapiro

HARD TO STOP

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Wesley Emerson; starring Nikki Dial, Crystal Wilder, Nicole London, Bianca, Melanie Moore, Mike Horner, Ron Jeremy, Randy West, Steve Drake and Woody Long. Videocassette: VCA.

It's Hard to Stop wondering why porn films even bother with plot. The five minutes it must've taken to concoct this tale of Nikki Dial as a Hollywood director in need of financing is all it takes to be able to slap together some hot sex. Studio head Horner likes Dial's script so much that he sticks his dick inside her smorgasbord pussy, so vast and meaty that her labes should be airlifted to Somalia. Meanwhile, the camera skirts across the action like a master figure skater, cutting quickly from Horner's sweaty face to his balls slapping against Dial's asshole, filmed so close you can count the crinkles on her shitter (36, for those scoring at home). The film's high energy makes even Ron Jeremy fun to watch. The Hedgehog does everything to Crystal Wilder's pink, gummy pussy but blow bubbles. His dick ends up in her asshole, before he completes the degradation with a blinding line of chum that she wears like cheap sunglasses. Not to be outdone, nasty Nicole London, the dirtiest thing to hit porn since the peep-show squeegee, makes mincemeat of West's cock. One by one these fuckers line up to invest in Dial's film; but Dial forgoes filmmaking for a five-girl orgy that proves life is better than art any day. —Seth Roberts

BLACK BOOTY

Half Erect. Directed by John T. Bone; starring Crystal Wilder, Lacy Rose, Nicole London, Nancy, Sean Michaels, Jake Steed and F. M. Bradley. Videocassette: Zane.

Black Booty has more storyline than the typical grind-porn slough-off. Although the plot—something about a pair of black hustlers who want to buy a race horse and leave their pimping and bookmaking days behind—makes less than total sense and creates little if any dramatic tension, it does stoke the performers' self-esteem as actors, which creates a cast of happy fuckers. Sex smiles are supplied by Crystal Wilder's pussy spreading fully open as Sean Michaels chews in through Wilder's butt to tongue-spear her gaping slit; Michaels's finger plugging Wilder's shitter as he pounds her pussy on the way to blasting a wad from her teeth to her tits; a doxy going from sort of attractive to suddenly pretty as Jake Steed plumbs his mulatto plunger into her ass ring, stands her on her neck, power drives her poop and pulls out to drop slop on her head; chicks crawling for cash as F. M. Bradley literally tosses money around; and a shaved Asian pussy taking Bradley's rooter from her dumpster to her mouth. Booty should rightly be called Black Dick, and the video serves up passable lengths of it.

—C. S.

Booty: Passable lengths of black dick.

THE DRAGON LADY 4

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Robert McCallum; starring Mimi Miyagi, China Mai, Crystal Wilder, Alicia Rio, Ron Jeremy, Peter North and Jake Steed. Videocassette: Western Visuals.

Confucius said, "Use slow motion in fuck scene, make really bad porn movie." A wise man, indeed, whose ancient wisdom is proven correct by the fecal stench of this Dragon Lady. A virtual lesson in lowest-denominator porn, the movie abuses tedious slo-mo effects ad nauseam, while feasting on the unforgivable editing annoyance of repeating the same closeups three or four times during every scene. Director Robert McCallum shoots like a blind man working with a Braille camera, and his cast provides little help.

—S. R.

Miyagi may be a lady, but Dragon is fecal stench.

EXPOSURE

Andrew Blake's latest excursion into high-ticket erotica, Sensuous Exposure, filmed at a $26-million mansion in Beverly Hills, promises to be every bit as graceful and elegant as any of Blake's productions, with more than his usual amount of kinky sex. It's difficult not to anticipate a movie in which Raven gets fitted with harness and bit and hooked up to a carriage to lead a whip-wielding Debi Diamond around the estate. Wonder if they have an opening for a groundskeeper.

ARABIAN NIGHTS

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Jim Enright and Jace Rucker; starring Jonathan Morgan, Steven St. Croix, Porsche Lynn, Sierra, Lacy Rose, Julian St. Jox, Melanie Moore, Kristall (a/k/a Jenna Wells), Christian DeOar and Sean Michaels. Videocassette: Wicked Pictures.

Porsche Lynn loves black cock. In what can be argued is the best sex scene of her career, Lynn devours Sean Michaels and Julian St. Jox in an interracial ass/pussy simul-stuff that ends with the pierced-nipple slut lapping up cum like an unweaned puppy. In an awesome display of cocksucking, Lynn engulfs Michaels's black girth, burying her nose in his pubic hair, a tear running down her cheek from the effort, spit drooling from her mouth—and she just goes right back down. Lynn's complete submission to her need to please the brothers is the high point of Arabian Nights, one of the silliest and most enjoyable fuck flicks to be churned out in some time. The story follows Jonathan Morgan and Steven St. Croix as two bungling private dicks on the hunt for an ancient lamp with magical sexual powers. Morgan is good as the lead idiot, but St. Croix steals the picture with an X-rated version of Jerry Lewis. A low-rent spin on the Bob Hope/Bing Crosby road pictures and the Three Stooges, with all the appropriate face-slapping, eye-poking and asides to the camera, Nights has laughs between the cum-shots.

—S. M.

Nights has laughs between cum-shots.

Supreme prefers black cock to Nikki's Nightlife.

NIKKI'S NIGHTLIFE

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by John T. Bone; starring Nikki Dial, Tracey Adams, Lacy Rose, Sean Michaels, Steve Drake, Misaki, T. T. Boy, Jerry Butler, Chelly Supreme and Ron Jeremy. Videocassette: Metro Home Video.

God only knows what Nikki's Nightlife is supposed to be about, because only God could be patient enough to endure long stretches of Nikki Dial talking to the camera, looking through walls and staring space-eyed as her thoughts are verbalized in garbled voiceovers. Mere mortals will succumb to the fast-forward temptation, eager to see sins of the flesh, such as Steve Drake fitting pipe into Dial from behind and pulling out to hang a glob of splooge off her chin, and Dial strapping on a dong to pork a lesser slut's slit while T. T. Boy bounces into the second-stringer's shitter. Unfortunately, speed-viewers of Nightlife run a risk of colliding with visions of Ron Jeremy ass-jamming Misaki, an Asiatic squack whose weird-looking cunt hair matches the pattern of the thatch on the Hedgehog's back; a hawk-nosed white slit who doesn't look any better for having Sean Michaels's crowbar up her ass; and clashing titans Jerry Butler and Tracey Adams in a blubbery oldster fuck that might be dubbed The Dance of the Wounded Warthogs.

—C. S.

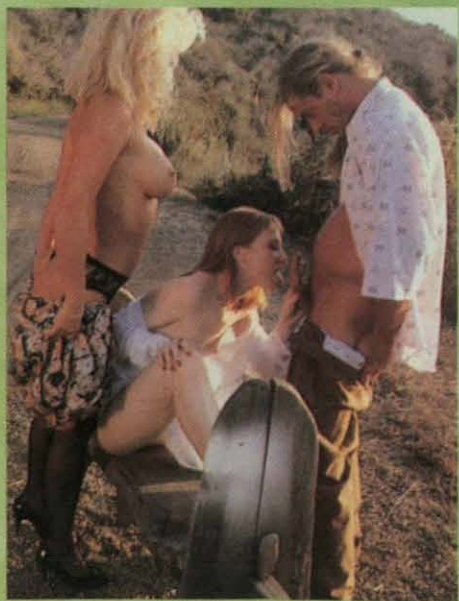

HOUSE OF SLEEPING BEAUTIES 1 AND 2

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Paul Thomas; starring Jamie Summers, Savannah, Madison, Flame, Francesca Le, Paula Harlow, Marc Wallace, Tom Byron, Steve Drake and Tom Chapman. Videocassette: Vivid. Shot on film.

Paul Thomas has finally woken up and smelled the cum-shot. Realizing that there's no substitute for hot sex, the director has abandoned plot pretensions and focuses instead on pristine shots of pretty people fucking like dogs. The film's coup de grace is the reemergence of Jamie Summers. Every scene this sun-kissed snatch sticks her hard-boiled ass into rises several hundred degrees above the norm. The immaterial plot finds Wallace hallucinating that he's starring in an Andrew Blake film, as he stumbles into one well-edited, highly charged fuck fantasy after another. Walking down a dirt road, he spies Summers plugging Flame's brown buttock with a pink dildo. Quicker than he can say, "Yes, these are Bugle Boy jeans," Wallace blows his horn across Flame's transparent tits. Since the film will be broken into two parts for unlucky conned-sumers, it's not determined which will contain the hottest scene (the fifth of eight in sequence). While Summers inhales Tom Chapman's cock, Tom Byron shoves his tongue up her asshole and tickles her colon. The boys take turns inside her cunt, before Byron inserts a five-inch line of ass beads, eventually withdrawn as the two cover her entire backside with a simultaneous hailstorm of semen. Later, Summers rounds out another threeway with Wallace and Savannah, whose puffy ass cloud silhouetted against the clear blue sky is 35-millimeter splendor at its finest.

—S. R.

Wallace steps out of the House for pristine sex.

AND SAVANNAH MAKES EIGHT

Is that Savannah taking a cum shower under the turgid spigots of eight heavy-hung porn plumbers? Starbangers 1 (Top Ten Video) features the queen of the laid-back lay with a cock in her cunt, one in her mouth and one in each hand, pumping and stroking for all she's worth. She even squats on a cock while sucking two dicks at once.

"I did it because no one expected me to," smiles Savannah, who personally selected her co-stars. "The whole thing was very intense. I was nervous beforehand, with all the guys hanging out while I was getting my makeup put on, and I wondered if I could handle it. But when it came to the actual sex, I was ready. I wanted to do it!"

Savannah brings the best gang-bang video of the year to a finish in the middle of a circle jerk, her tits and stomach slathered with cum. "I might do another one, if the circumstances were right," she says. "And the men." Maybe your bowling team meets her qualifications. Send a group picture to Savannah in care of X-tremely Yours, 11225 Magnolia Boulevard, Penthouse, North Hollywood, CA 91601.

DEAR JOHN

Half Erect. Directed by Judy Blue; starring Heather Hunter, Sean Michaels, Alex Jordan, Teri Diver, Tom Byron and Steve Drake. Videocassette: Vivid.

In keeping with current trends in pornography, the action of Dear John—as directed by Judy Blue, the name Paul Thomas uses for his lesser projects—takes place entirely in the bathroom, with a toilet (or John, as the dear vernacular has it) lurking in the background. Though the porcelain marital aid is always in the vicinity, it is never used to any erotic advantage, which is among the worst of Dear John's failings. The video's achievements include: blond-rinsed Teri Diver pulling a dildo the size of a baby's arm from her makeup bag and opening Alex Jordan's quim from behind; Tom Byron and Diver taking turns inspecting the dusky ass crack of Heather Hunter before their threeway ends with cum on both ladies' smiles; Jordan jumping off Steve Drake to milk his dong on her chin; and Sean Michaels tongue-swiping musk flaps and finishing on Hunter's face as she licks his balls. One more fuck, preferably centered around that toilet, and Dear John would have been worth writing about.

—C. S.

Dear John: Hunter's in the bathroom with vagina.

MORE THAN A HANDFUL 2

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Wes Brown; starring Kiss, Nick East, Jonathan Morgan, Leanna Foxxx, Terry Thomas, Tianna Taylor, Kris Newz and Wendy Whoppers. Videocassette: Metro Home Video.

Who are the bigger boobs, the sizeable breasts flopping and plopping in More Than a Handful 2 or the kooky boobs responsible for the show's toilet jokes? The commode humor of Handful has the buoyancy of a lighter-than-water turd, a log that pops up again and again, reminding the asshole who dropped it that his shit is not so heavy as he might sometimes think; so take life a little more lightly, plug in More Than a Handful 2 and view the fruits of people who wouldn't take their work seriously if their bowel movements depended on it: Terry Thomas nuzzling his face in push-up cleavage only to come on his breast friend's back and ass; Tianna Taylor's twin titan missiles taking a direct hit of testicle ammo; another cock-whipped big-melon bim with cum on her buns; a wholly unreal set of chest bumpers absorbing a dose of trouser-snake venom; and a final charge of wad dropped into a mammary valley. More has certain excesses, but still comes up less than enough. —C. S.

Whoppers gives Morgan more than a Handful.

ROCKIN' RACQUEL

I must commend your filthy magazine. It is rude, disgusting and degrades women to nothing more than buttered muffins, and I love it. Since I'm armed with a jumbo tub of Parkay, I have to tell you horn dogs about a certain muffin I could butter daily. I'm begging HUSTLER's Erotic Entertainment to feature Racquel Darrian. I've always been on the perverted side, but I've only seen a few porn vids. One flick sticks in my pants: Welcome to My Face, starring Racquel. She outclasses other smut queens by a mile. Racquel has got the body from hell with the boots to match. Racquel, if you're reading this, as long as I have a face, you have a place to sit!

—Schwing
Cheyenne, Wyoming

Look no farther, Schwing. Racquel Darrian bursts forth in full photo-feature in HUSTLER, coming soon!

DANGEROUS HUMOR

Writing letters in a foreign language is not my daily work, but I'll try to formulate my complaint about HUSTLER as best I can. This week, I bought your magazine for the first time here in Holland, but it could also be the last. Bits & Pieces shocked me—in particular, the gag about the No-Flies Zone and the Mark David Chapman School of Shooting Stars ("No-Flies Zone," and "Mark David Chapman School of Shooting Stars," Bits & Pieces, May '93).

About the No-Flies Zone: this kind of humor goes too far. You're lucky you were born in America instead of Somalia, otherwise you could starve to death yourselves. It's inhuman for you to compare these starving people to flies. Haven't you learned anything from history?

The other article, about the Mark David Chapman School of Shooting Stars, is also dubious. At the foot of the page, we can read in little letters that it is a parody, and must not be taken seriously. However, not everybody has the ability to see it as a parody, and with such an article, you can bring people onto wrong ideas, just like the man who recently stabbed Monica Seles with a knife.

If you take responsibility for things, you will achieve better quality, in my opinion.

P.S.: Sandrine (Sandrine: Liquid Friction, May '93) is a nice girl.

AVE AVA

I was just reading, in HUSTLER's Anniversary Issue, the letter from A. L. ("Avalanche," Feedback, July '93). I have to agree with A. L. about Ava, Beaver Hunt's 1992 Grand Prize Winner (Ava: Beater's Choice, April '93). Me and all the guys at work here made Ava our mascot, and every day, before we start work, we all look at her photo hanging on the wall and rub her pretty little pussy.

We all took a vote and decided that Ava has the prettiest pussy any of us has ever seen, and between all of us, we've seen a lot of pussy.

If all the beavers in the world looked like Ava's, we men would be the luckiest creatures on earth.

STALL TACTICS

Mexican food makes me shit. It also makes me horny as shit, which is why my girl and I eat out as much as possible. Usually, the endless rounds of margaritas are like foreplay for when we get home. But sometimes we just can't wait.

Two nights ago, Veronica and I were doin' the bean dip down at El Fri'jole Guapo. We were tanked like goddamn sailors on leave by the time our dinner arrived. She lifted her heavy meat burrito and slid the fat end down her throat like a big, floured cock.

Her brown eyes widened when a wad of yellow cheese dribbled down her chin. She retrieved the slimy dollop with her long tongue, rolled the cheesy doodle into a ball and, without warning, hawked the greasy loogie across the table onto my nose like an errant booger. My girl was feeling frisky; I took her cue.

I walked to her side of the table and grabbed her wrist. "Come with me," I sneered. Excitement flushed her face red as we walked to the bathrooms. I made sure the men's room was empty before I pulled Veronica into one of the bathroom stalls. "Take off your dress," I demanded, lowering my voice in case some dude popped in to squirt.

She pulled her tight, pink dress over her head and dropped the garment to the piss-stained tile floor. "All right, Mr. Knobhead, now what?" she sneered, playing the bitch role to the hilt. She was nude except for red garters and stockings.

"Get on your knees!" I commanded. I dropped trou and stood over her, spreading my hairy asshole for her to suck. I hadn't showered since an afternoon shit and was sure she was licking a few musty crusties. My balls bounced against her nose as Vern french-kissed my oil well. The tequila danced in my gut.

"Baby, it's time you ate some humble pie," I cackled. "Grab the bowl, and stick that big fucking ass of yours in the air!" She grabbed the porcelain sewer on each side and arched her back in the cramped space. Her meaty ass backed into my bone. "Higher!" I barked. With my back against the stall door and my knees slightly bent, I shoved my dick inside her gooey cunt.

Each flank of pussy meat tickled my driller as it plunged in and out, out and in. Veronica's moans echoed from inside the bowl as though she were blowing orgasmic chunks. I was plowing away so hard that I'd almost forgotten where I was fucking until I heard the bathroom door swing open.

I froze my pulsing dick inside her pussy. The visitor moved to the urinal and started to pee, letting fly a burly fart to signal his pissing triumph. Veronica giggled playfully and flexed her cunt muscles. Her vag clenched my cock, prompting prickly sensations at the tip. I tried to hush her, but she only giggled louder and bucked her ass into my groin, sending me backward against the stall door. I'm sure the intruder heard us, but luckily his toilet flushed, and the bathroom door opened and closed, signaling his exit.

"You almost got us busted," I whispered. Veronica was laughing. I pulled my dick out of her snatch and wrapped my fist around her brunet mane. "I'd better teach you some fucking manners!" I sneered, and shoved her head down into the moldy toilet piss pot.

Water splashed down the sides of the bowl as I scrubbed the shit-stained interior with her pretty face. Not wanting her to drown, I pulled her up long enough to suck fresh air and then splashed her down once more like a whale doing flips at Sea World. Her head was drenched as toilet water sloshed against my pole. I rubbed my slippery prick until cum slithered to the tip.

Veronica turned her head to me and felt the blow of my veiny shaft against her insolent face. "Open your mouth, bitch!" I jeered, and shot a volcanic flow of sperm against her gritted teeth and off her nose.

She stuck my shaft down her gullet like a roto-rooter, flushing our semen friends further into her throat. She smiled like a well-trained mutt, stood and kissed my mouth. Our little role-play was over.

"I'll get some paper towels," I whispered, hoping to make a quick getaway; but when I opened the stall door, I saw a beefy security guard standing against the far wall with his arms folded. Our cover was blown, and he looked pissed.

"You ought to be more discreet," he said with a shit-eating Southern drawl. He locked the bathroom door and walked toward us. I was still nude and self-conscious. "Now, how are we gonna settle this without bringing in the law?" he sneered, the pig-fucking pervert, and glanced over my shoulder at Veronica, who had toilet water and cum dripping from her tits. He smiled and put both hands on my shoulders. His breath stank of chewing tobacco. "I'm gonna teach you some manners, motorcycle boy!"

He grabbed his baton and forced me to my knees. While my girlfriend watched helplessly a few feet away, this beefy fuckhead unzipped his slacks and pummeled me with his baton. Life is filled with sick fucks.

His cock's convulsions stretched my elastic sphincters wide. Cool liquid flooded inside my colon; it felt like I was digesting a hearty meal, only backward.

THE CLOWNING TOUCH

Ever since I was a little girl, clowns have scared me. Now I know why.

I work for the Edmonsons as their live-in helper. A week ago, Mrs. Edmonson's daughter was about to celebrate her seventh birthday. The food had been prepared, and the so-called entertainment had been arranged. The clown was due at noon. I intended to sequester myself in my room until he had left. At 11:45, however, Mrs. Edmonson knocked on my door. Her daughter had been taken ill, and she had been forced to call off the party. Unfortunately, the scheduled clown was already en route and could not be reached. While she was at the doctor's office, I would have to pay the clown and send him on his way.

Fifteen minutes later, I heard a honk. Not of a car, but of a clown's horn. The entertainer had arrived in full makeup. Through the door's peephole, his red nose seemed bigger than his face, and his wig shot wild wisps of orange in every direction. I took a deep breath before opening the door.

"Hey there, hi there, ho there! It's Captain Dingle, boys and girls!" he sang. His crazy rant was met with silence. He furrowed his brow at the obvious lack of screaming children.

"I'm sorry, sir. The party's been canceled." I explained the reason and gave him the money. He seemed dazed and walked to the living-room sofa, accidentally honking his horn when he sat.

"That's the fourth time this month ol' Cap'n Dingle's been canceled," he said sadly. "A clown starts to get a complex, you know."

"I'm sure it's not you, sir," I consoled, sitting beside him. "I'm sure you're a good clown."

He placed his hand on my cheek and smiled wanly. "Thanks." He pulled a dozen pink roses from under his billowing sleeve and handed them to me. I smiled like a schoolgirl; this kind of vulnerability was unseen in the strict Edmonson house. Then I smelled the flowers and kissed his cheek, leaving red lipstick upon his white greasepaint. He wrapped his arms around me and hugged me warmly; I felt I'd known this clown all my life. He ran a hand along my spine, pulling me closer into his chest. My right breast brushed against one of the red pom-poms that dotted the exterior of his garment.

I pulled away and stared into his glowing eyes. "Come with me," I whispered and led him into my room, the sound of his oversized shoes flopping against the hardwood floor.

My room was dark and surprisingly cool for a June afternoon. Sunlight filtered gently through the blinds, casting oblong shadows across my single bed. We talked, kissed and talked some more. My heart raced. I hadn't made love to a man in three years, and the last time had been the first, when I was 18. I was more mature now and felt better prepared to please a man.

The kissing intensified. I traced the exterior of his painted, red lips with my tongue. The cotton cloth of his gloved hand reached inside my black-and-white maid's uniform. I unzipped the back and let the outfit drop off my shoulders. He closed his eyes and smiled, dropped his gloves to the floor and rubbed perspiring palms into my tiny breasts. He lowered his head and ran his tongue along my nipple, grabbing the flesh nugget with his teeth and biting me lightly along my areola. A tingle ran down my spine to the top of my bottom.

I grabbed his orange wig and began to pull it off his head. He suddenly backed away and returned the wig to its original position. "Please don't," he frowned.

"I'm sorry," I forced out, feeling self-conscious.

He put a finger to my lips.

"Do you trust me?" he asked, his fake eyebrows arching oddly in the shards of sunlight.

"Yes," I whispered.

"Will you let Dingle perform?" he queried, now a little more aggressively.

"Yes," I said, trembling.

He pinned my arms to the bed, pulled off his big, red nose and shoved it into my mouth. He flipped my body over, unfastened his giant clown belt and bound my hands behind my back. I craned my neck and saw a beaming smile on his face as he pulled inch after inch of pastel stockings from his left sleeve. He tied my ankles to the bedposts.

I was spread-eagled and silent, thrilled

Shadows and Flesh

The Penetrating Photography of Richard Kern

Richard Kern has an undeniable fascination with the female form. "Women are a mystery to me, and I'm intrigued by their unavailability," Kern explains. "Most guys can relate to that quality." An underground filmmaker for the past ten years, Kern's "art-blood-sex" movies caught the attention of New York art-rockers King Missile, who hired him to direct the video for its controversial hit, "Detachable Penis." Richard's true passion is photography, however, and capturing the "dangerous disdain" he believes every woman exudes. Proceed with caution.

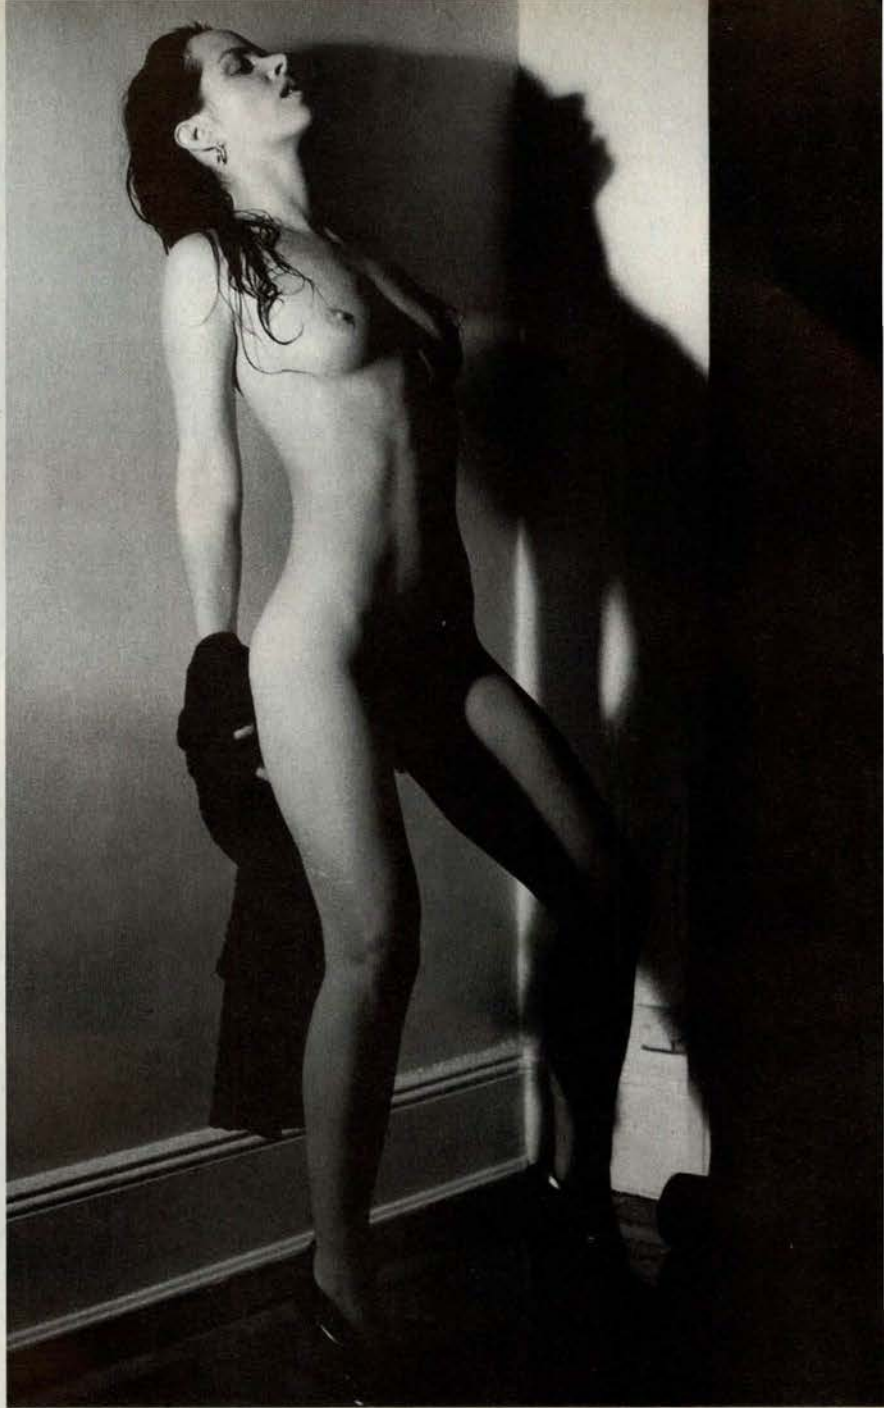

A nice girl won't give an inch, but she won't say no.

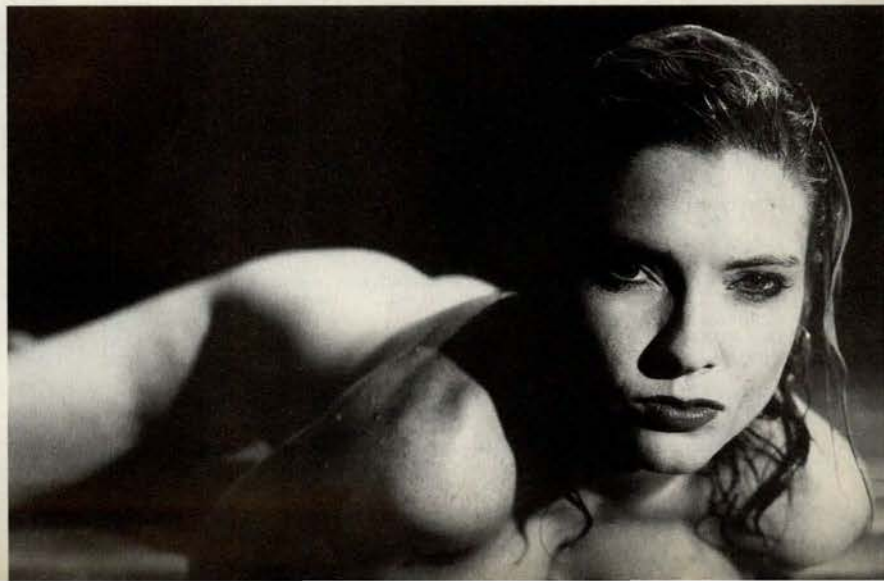

"A woman always has her revenge ready."
—Molière

and only a little frightened.

He opened my butt cheeks with both hands. A trickle of saliva fell onto my little hole, which flinched and throbbed when he slid his tongue inside. The movement of his mouth against my arse forced a dribble of moisture to escape from my vagina. He stopped the flow with a well-placed thumb. He continued sliding his Little Jack Horner digit in and out of my pussy, still sucking my anus like a chocolate Lifesaver.

My nipples scraped against the wooly fabric of the bedspread, and his thick thumb probed deeper into my vagina.

I was near orgasm when he lifted his smeared face and yelled, "It's party time, Jimmy!"

He spritzed my asshole with a water-dispensing plastic flower that hung from his lapel. The crystal geyser flowed inside my parched bumhole. When the squirting water had ceased, a new sensation bumped my pussy—his penis.

His boner felt disproportionately large, as if the head were bigger than the shaft. He stuffed himself past my outer labia and into the deeper recesses of my womanhood. I wanted to adjust my hips to ease his thrusts, but my legs would not budge. I was at his mercy, and mercilessly he pounded away, stopping only to switch portals of pleasure.

"Ever feel like life gave you a bum deal?" he cackled, and rubbed some kind of greasy gunk into my backside. One finger and then two squeezed into my butthole, preparing for the painful pleasure of his knobby cock.

I would've screamed with agonizing delight, had not the rubber nose kept me quiet. He laughed, his orange wig shaking with excitement. The deeper he plunged, the more I liked it, especially when he pulled out of my ass, pushed inside my mommy box and then roughly back inside my backside.

I wiggled both my hands free of his restraining belt and reached down to pull my butt cheeks apart wider, to allow him more freedom within. When I arched my neck and looked over my shoulder, I was shocked to see a tiny tear sliding down his cheek, making his greasepaint makeup smear even worse.

"Please don't," he sniffled, and turned my face gently away with his hand. He was oddly silent until his pace quickened. My asshole was on fire. He shrieked loudly like a crazed animal. "Awww!" His cock's convulsions stretched my elastic sphincters wide. Cool liquid flooded inside my colon; it felt like I was digesting a hearty meal, only backward. The room smelled of anal sex, and I struggled to catch my breath. My head was spinning throughout his long ejaculation, and when his creamy flow had subsided, he collapsed against my back. When he finally pulled out of my butt, my tiny hole burned. I felt something sharp scrape against my sore asshole. I craned my neck again and saw the clown inserting a straw into my butt. The deeper the plastic probed, the more sinister his expression became. I finally dislodged his rubber nose from my mouth and said bitterly, "What are you doing?"

He smiled. "Dingle eats what Dingle buries."

As he sucked on the plastic, his sperm traveled in clumps through the clear straw. He sucked harder, and a gush of wind rushed through my guts as he finished the task, removed the straw and gulped his load down into his belly. "Magically delicious," he giggled, and wiped his mouth. After untying my legs, he kissed my forehead and clomped his way to the front door. I didn't talk; I was too disgusted. My opinion of clowns has definitely worsened. —Name Withheld

SCARED STRAIGHTS: PLUGGING THE HETERO AIDS RISK

by Mike Heimowitz

At a crowded Fourth of July party in Pacoima, California, 23-year-old graphic designer Bill toasts the birth of the Land of the Brave with a bottle of Moët Chandon and a fresh squeeze. Recent companion Emily snuggles closer to Bill on a tiny couch and whispers, "Let's get some air." Bill staggers to his feet with his new best girl. Blouse unbuttoned, Emily grabs his hand. They find their way to a darkened laundry room, where their lips lock. Emily mashes her mound against Bill's expanding bulge. Her mouth moves south, pops open his button fly and engulfs his throbbing cock.

Bill's not too drunk to think sensibly. He fumbles in his wallet. Damn! He never got around to replacing that condom he used last winter. Emily pulls the hardened prick from her mouth and opens her legs without a trace of hesitation.

"Do me," she whispers.
"Let's end the Fourth with a bang!"

"Have you got a rubber?" Bill asks weakly.
"We don't need one," she straight up into her drenched pussy.

The delirious couple humps loudly against the washer, their moans drowned out by the music blasting next door. Turned on by the liquor, the occasion and each other, they come quickly. Returning to the party, Emily disappears in the crowd. Bill never sees her again. He worries for many weeks afterward about the HIV risk of his unsafe-sex encounter. Unable to eat or sleep, he finally breaks down from the stress and arranges a next-day AIDS test.

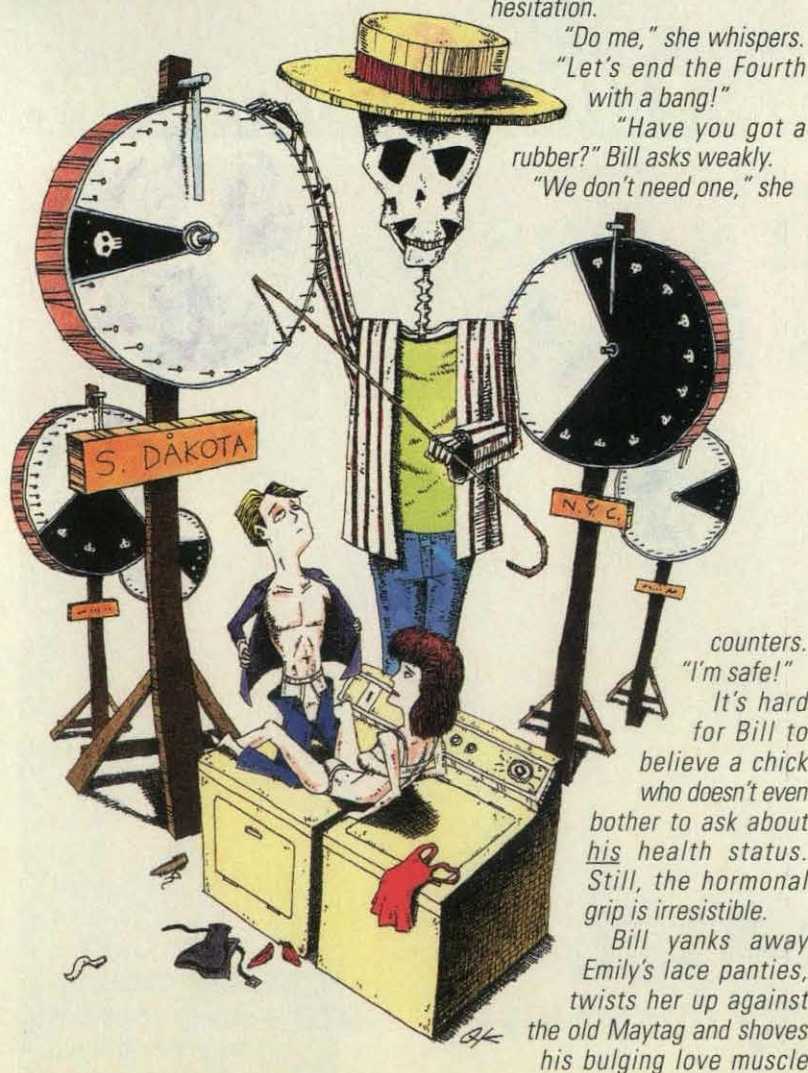

Contrary to popular belief, worries regarding the likelihood of heterosexually transmitted AIDS are probably exaggerated, according to a groundbreaking National Research Council (NRC) report.

The NRC report, entitled "The Social Impact of AIDS in the United States," was commissioned by the U.S. Center for Disease Control. The esteemed panel of experts included professors of medical ethics, sociology, law, history and anthropology. The study determined that the scourge of AIDS is not fanning out to the broad American population as once feared, noting that many geographical areas and strata of the population are virtually untouched by the epidemic, and most likely will remain so.

As stated in the NRC report, AIDS has increasingly become an affliction of people who have little political, economic and social power—the poor, uneducated, jobless and generally downtrodden of society. The impact of the virus will not equal that of historic epidemics such as the bubonic plague (the so-called Black Death that ravaged Europe in the Middle Ages). Instead, HIV/AIDS will fade from public notice, not because, as with smallpox, it has been systematically eradicated, but because those who continue to be affected by it will be the socially outcast.

Demographic areas slated for long-term battle with the disease include penal institutions. Prisons have a much higher rate of HIV infection than the general population. As many as 20% of the incarcerated in New York State are HIV-positive. The NRC report documents dozens of criminal cases involving AIDS-related inmate assault, including biting and spitting. In one case noted in the report, an AIDS-infected inmate saved up his saliva in a bucket to pour over a particularly despised guard.

The NRC panel used New York City, a vivid portrait of the epidemic, to support the conclusion that AIDS is not spreading uniformly through the population, but hitting very hard in localized areas. New York and northern New Jersey lead the nation in the number of women infected with AIDS. New York harbors 15% of all U.S. AIDS cases. Nearly 200,000 New York residents are HIV-positive. The study shows that the highest incidences of New York City AIDS cases are concentrated in a handful of zip codes, including gay neighborhoods in Manhattan and junkie neighborhoods in the Bronx.

Reaction to the NRC AIDS report has been mixed. The AIDS Coalition to Unleash Power (ACT-UP, a highly visible AIDS-activist group responsible for increasing the U.S. distribution of AIDS medications and instigating price controls on such drugs, as well as concocting media-ready stunts such as tossing the ashes of AIDS victims over the White House fence in the last days of the Bush administration and inflating a huge condom over the roof of arch-conservative Senator Jesse Helms's house) finds fault with the study.

"[The NRC study] will intensify the problem and perpetuate the myth about where AIDS strikes," warns ACT-UP spokesperson Jay Blotcher. "In addition, it will lull people into a false sense of security. The [NRC panel] didn't consider the different modes of transmission. For example, you could have an upper-middle-class businessman picking up a prostitute and then bringing the disease home to his wife. The report is overgeneralized."

"The NRC report says there is a greater concentration of cases in certain groups, and that's a fact," counters Dr. Mervyn Silverman, president of the Los Angeles-based American Foundation for AIDS Research (AMFAR). "It says most institutions are not affected, and they aren't. You cannot criticize this report for saying what's true. The facts are there."

Shepherd Smith, president of Americans for a Sound AIDS Policy, an AIDS group with a heterosexual bent, fears that the NRC's AIDS report will make people think the epidemic is going away.

"To suggest that the infection is limited to certain areas is very dangerous and will hurt a lot of people," Smith asserts. "People who are white and affluent will think they're not at risk and can't be infected. That's a misconception. If you have a significant number of sex partners, your risk of exposure will be high."

"This is largely a heterosexual epidemic in the world, and it will be a heterosexual disease in the United States," Smith continues. "The biggest failing of the report is that it focuses on the historic record. Most infections we see today occurred a decade ago when homosexuals had large numbers of sex partners. This was a nirvana for the disease in the '70s and '80s."

NRC panel members understand but discount the criticism leveled at them by AIDS activists.

"[There's been an] extraordinary misinterpretation," says panel chairman Albert Jonsen, a professor of medical ethics at the University of Washington School of Medicine in Seattle. "We're not saying that everyone is not at risk, but we are not seeing a spread to the general population at this time."

Jonsen believes that the activists are objecting chiefly because the NRC report undermines their primary political message.

"To say that every American is at risk is very useful because it arouses broad public interest," Jonsen states. "[AIDS activists] feel we are weakening their message, and that this will result in a loss of interest from Congress, a loss of interest for funding and from the public, who will now say, 'It's not our problem.' We do not say that anywhere in the report. Our job was to study the social impact of AIDS and recommend an approach to monitoring that impact. We pointed out what we saw."

Although the NRC report emphasizes the localization of AIDS, Jonsen points out that American society is very mobile, and that the enormous movement back and forth between communities underscores the reasonable doubt behind every sex encounter, making precautions against viral transmission nothing more than common sense.

"Everyone is at risk—every sexually active human being," the professor warns. "That is not the same as saying everyone is equally at risk."

Jonsen and AIDS activists agree on one key point: Safe sex is smart.

AMFAR's Silverman says, "You never know who's infected. All it takes is a single use of IV drugs or unprotected sex to put yourself at risk." 🐼

Porn Dolls' Views on Older Men

Do gold-digging girls go for silver? HUSTLER asks the cream of flesh appeal to share their personal views on the men of experience. Here's what the pros have to say.

OLDER MEN

"I'll hold my pussy open and say, 'This right here is my hot spot. Stay on that; suck on that a little bit.' Older men will suck and lick and push their tongue inside my pussy."

Years fly by when a man moves to capture the attentions of a beautiful woman, but no matter how young a guy feels, time takes its toll. How important is old or young to the ladies? Nearly 40 of the brightest babes in the biz share their intimate views on the query: What does a man's age mean to you?

REBECCA STEELE: Older men have figured out what works. They're not intimidated when I tell them what I like. For instance, I'll hold my pussy open and say, "This right here is my hot spot. Stay on that; suck on that a little bit." Older men will suck and lick and push their tongue inside my pussy. I might say, "Roll me over, and fuck me this way; let me put my clit on my vibrator," and younger guys will say, "What's the matter? My dick ain't big enough, or what?"

CHAZ VINCENT: When I was 16 in high school back in Texas, I went out with a guy who was 27. He taught me about bondage; he tied me up and spanked me. It was the first time I had rope burns. It was wonderful!

SUKOYAD: My name means "Suck, oh yeah," and the D is for "deep." I specialize in doctors—gynecologists in particular. Gynecologists know what to do with the vagina—they have technique. When they bring along their instruments, like the ones to open you up, things can get kinky! Older men last longer, believe it or not. They can fuck for days. Young guys come once and go to sleep. Fuck that shit! I want it all night!

TIFFANY MILLION: I've dated older men. That's why my boyfriend's four years younger than me! Every older man I've messed around with could not get his dick up and keep it there. I was seeing an older man about six months ago. I'm not gonna give you his name, 'cause he's a very famous actor, a star. We'd be fucking—trying to fuck—and every time he'd lose it, he'd laugh about it, like it was some kind of joke. I didn't think it was very funny.

CHANTILLY LACE: I prefer to date older men. The guy I'm seeing now is older, and he definitely knows how to make a woman feel good!

PORSCHE LYNN: Older men are the best. I can think of a couple of older men in particular who love to eat pussy. Satisfying a woman is their number-one concern.

LEENA: The only older man I dated was fun to talk to and be with, but his sex life was minimal. We'd do it between the news and weather. He just couldn't last long enough.

BUNNY BLEU: I love older men, because they know how to make love longer, and they seem more keen and...older! They've got the rhythm of life. That's a good way of putting it.

LYNN LEMAY: I prefer older men. Believe me—I've gone through the younger ones. I'm tired of teaching. I'm tired of give-give-give. Older men try harder. I'm not trying to prove myself, and neither are they. In the old days, I said, "Eighteen years, that's it. I don't want 'em any older." Nowadays, I prefer men who are 35 to 40 years old. They're not in a rush. If fucking takes two or three hours, it just does. An 18-year-old jumps your bones, and it's over in five minutes.

SHARON KANE: I think basically there are two types of older men: the type without a lot of charisma, who's getting older and going by the wayside, and so pays for sex; and the type who's knowledgeable and intelligent and worldly and witty and sexy and fun. I prefer the second type to the first.

The sex I have with older or younger men is all about the same—a little domination, a little S&M. I find older men are usually more creative. After a while, the physical act of lovemaking doesn't really get you off anymore. You need mental games to go along with it. I was in Thailand once, at the Golden Triangle, with an older American guy, and we bought some belts that the villagers made. He tied me to a bamboo chair while he was fucking me. It was intense! Would a younger guy have thought of that?

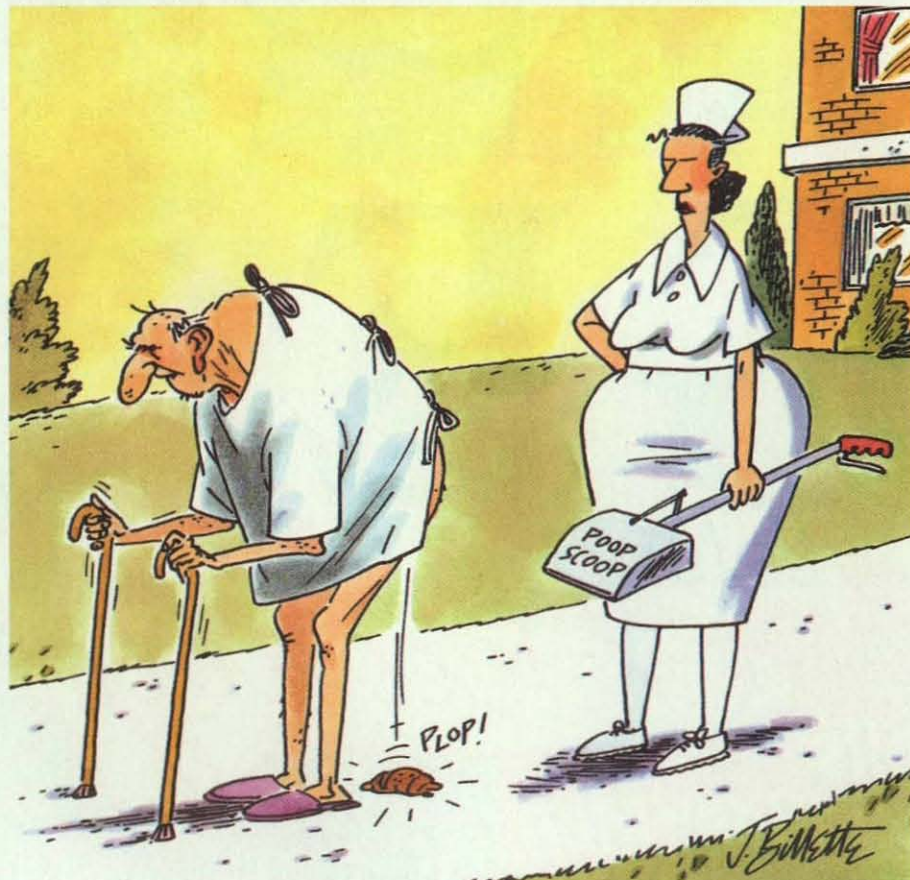

JANET JACME: Older men try, but they can't keep up with me. Can't catch me; can't have me!

NINA ALEXANDER: I got a thing about gray hair. I got my first gray hair, and I almost came! I even love women with gray hair.

FLAME: Joey Silvera is older. I really love him. He does good anal with me. I'd do anal with him any day. My best lover has been a younger guy, but older guys give better head!

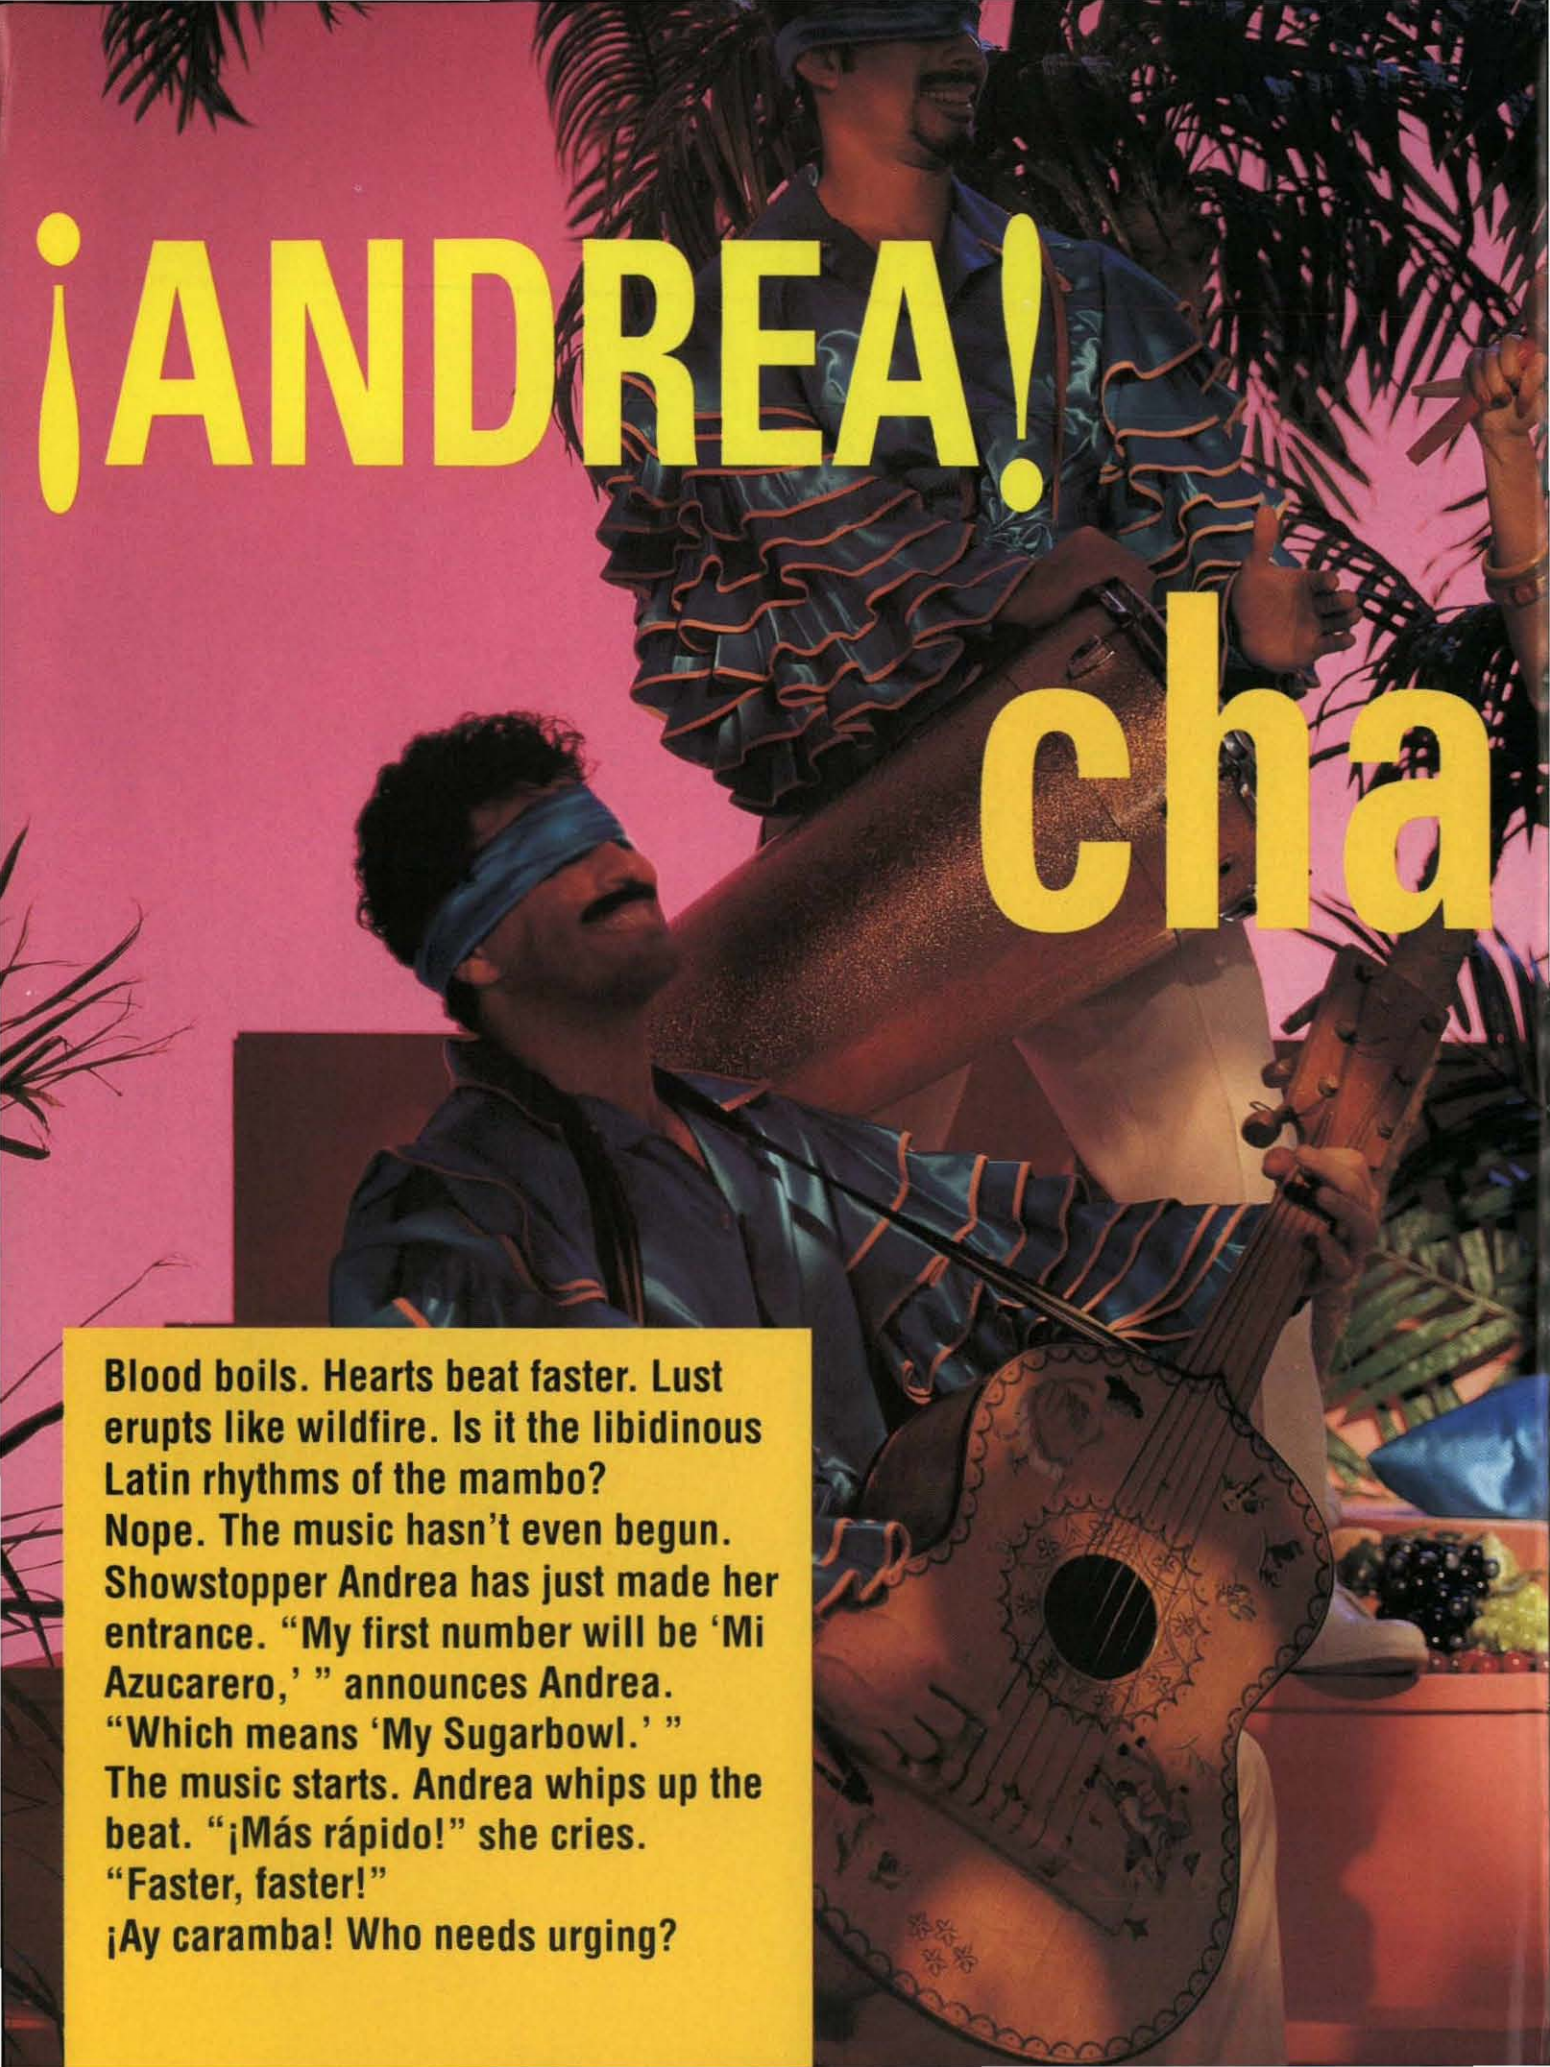

JADE EAST: Older men treat women better. They cater more to women than younger men do. That's a nice quality.

PAMELA DEE: I'm into older, younger, taller, shorter, thinner, wider, doesn't matter—but not too wide! Younger men who haven't been around get off faster. Older men understand women, and they satisfy themselves by getting a woman

"Careful, Harry—jailbait!"

¡ANDREA! cha

Blood boils. Hearts beat faster. Lust erupts like wildfire. Is it the libidinous Latin rhythms of the mambo? Nope. The music hasn't even begun. Showstopper Andrea has just made her entrance. "My first number will be 'Mi Azucarero,' " announces Andrea. "Which means 'My Sugarbowl.' " The music starts. Andrea whips up the beat. "¡Más rápido!" she cries. "Faster, faster!" ¡Ay caramba! Who needs urging?

"Every little thing that he did, every nuance, the way he touched me, the way he licked my pussy, was exquisite, and I was in ecstasy the whole time."

off. I've dated a man who was about 17 years older than me. As far as oral sex is concerned, he was a lot better at it than a younger man. He kissed and tongued me down there for hours. You're getting me hot now. I haven't had any today, so...!

TIANNA: Older men have been my teachers of life and sex, and just seem to be, overall, my kind of company. Young guys haven't experienced much; so their stories aren't as interesting, unless they've read a lot of books.

TANYA FOX: I've been with my current boyfriend, who's one year younger, about two years now, and I'm happy with him—I've got him well trained! I like older women. I like to play with mommies.

ARIANNA: My first husband was 14 years older than me. He gave me a very good education. Some of the bedroom tricks that he taught me I still use today.

LISA LIPS: I like older men with money and long, hard, stiff ones, who can keep it up all night. Then again, I like hard young men too, and women occasionally!

MAI LIN: I like anyone with an open mind. Older men with closed minds are terrible; same thing with young men. People like that don't want to learn anything, and they can't teach you anything. I'm finding that people in their 80s and 90s are just wonderful, because they've been through life so long they live and let live, and they want to have some fun—and share it!

ANGELA SUMMERS: I like 'em old or young, but the older the better—as long as their unit isn't a noodle! The oldest man I can remember being with is John Stagliano. He's probably in his late 60s, wouldn't you say? With that goatee of his and that Grecian Formula!

SUNNY MCKAY: I love older men. Young guys like to flirt. Older guys know just what they want.

KYM WILDE: What do I love about older men? One, money. Two, wives. You see them when you want to, you get laid, and that's it. Contrary to what people say, older men last longer. The oldest man I was with was 57. He wasn't so good. I think it's called impudence [impotence] when the dick doesn't get hard. I was beginning to think it was me, but it wasn't. I'm dating an older man now, and it's nice.

TABATHA: I prefer boys age 19 or so. I don't like men to be too old or too young.

TANYA STORM: It depends on who the older man is, of course, but in general, older men usually know how to please a woman better. The oldest man I've fucked is 40. He's been around for a while, and he's totally gorgeous.

LAURIE CAMERON: When I was 21, I had a sexual experience with a 45-year-old man: Every little thing that he did, every nuance, the way he touched me, the way he licked my pussy, was exquisite, and I was in ecstasy the whole time. Our lovemaking lasted for hours!

STASHA: I prefer older men, very much so! They have sophistication, experience and a more mature sense of humor. I've laid a man who was old enough to be my grandfather. The older, the wiser, the better all around.

ANGELA FAITH: It really depends more on the person. Age is not a big deal.

HYAPATIA LEE: Oh man, I love older men. I'm not kidding. When I was 16, I was running around with an older crowd, and I played a game with myself to see how old a guy I could fuck. I thought older guys could teach me more about sex—and I still feel that way. I hope I always keep learning! There's an old Indian philosophy that when you know it all, you're ready to die, and I'm not ready.

When I was 16, I dated a 31-year-old guy. The guys I'd been with before hadn't been really vocal about how they liked their cocks sucked, but he told me the specifics and wasn't afraid to talk about it.

Older guys are not so excited about having pussy that they're gonna explode instantaneously, or so into the fact that they're actually fucking that they don't really care whether they're getting you off. I like the slower, laid-back thing—taking time and having fun with oral sex, positions, acting out different roles.

SUMMER KNIGHT: I've always gone more for guys my own age, but I really get into older women. There's something so deep and beautiful and wise about them. I just love that.

SUSAN VEGAS: When I was 16, I dated a man who was 27, and he seemed real old to me. Since then, I haven't dated an older man. I don't purposely say, "Let me see your ID. Oh, you're too old, you're out." I just always end up with guys six to ten years younger. My friends say I'm immature. I go for a lack of responsibility. I'm lucky if they've got a driver's license, some of the guys I've dated.

When I was 16 and living with my parents, I dated an older man who had a neat place to hang out at, a cabin in the mountains. We had a relationship for six months. It didn't go on for years, but when you're 16, romances don't tend to last long anyway. He liked my body a lot. I liked the attention. He was very much in control of the situation. Younger guys are kind of lost and aimless. You go out with a 16-year-old, you end up parked in a car in the mountains.

Professional escorts roll through Miami, Florida, by the dozens, but none cruise the beach better than 21-year-old Bailey, whose full-service satisfaction beats the best. "Women or men, makes no difference," states silky-smooth Bailey, unwrapping ermine and silk from her china-white figure. "I give them a ride to remember!"

"I know a gentleman who's about 60. We go to a dungeon he's built, and he hangs me upside down and puts a dildo up between my legs and watches me squirm until I come."

PEARL: Older men turn me on. They're more sexually experienced, intellectually stimulating and attentive to a woman's needs. A man in his 20s just wants to get his rocks off. A man in his 30s is trying to find what he really wants. When you get older, it's more about the person you're with, more of a caring, loving thing.

ALEX JORDAN: It depends on how old you're talking about! If you mean one foot on a banana peel, the other in the grave, no, I've never messed around with a man like that! The oldest man I've had was about 40. I'm 25. Younger men are like rabbits. They get in and get out, and there's not as much tenderness in it. Older men take their time.

I know a gentleman who's about 60 or so. We don't have sex, but it's his fantasy to see me get off. We go to a dungeon he's built, and he hangs me upside down and puts a dildo up between my legs and watches me squirm until I come.

SUNSET THOMAS: They last a long, long time, and that's my favorite thing! Their favorite thing seems to be my hands. I'll take both of my hands and go up and down their cocks really fast and then rub on the top of their poles like crazy!

I like it when older men come up to me, all nervous and shaky, and ask for my autograph. I always grab 'em and take 'em around the side and give 'em a big old hug, and they're like, "Oh, thank you!" I like them to love me back, and they do.

ALICIA RIO: I was attracted to an older man once—my doctor. He was sophisticated and mature, and he was in a good career, and that turned me on. I was about 21, and he was at least double my age—I would say 45. We never actually went out. I had a lot of fantasies about him, but I didn't have the courage to do anything about it. When he was examining my breasts, my body temperature would rise; so maybe he knew I was getting hot flashes when he touched my body.

It's always nice, when I'm on the road dancing, to see older men in the audience, dressed in suits and ties. I love glasses—my ideal older man has to wear glasses. It turns me on when they're sitting there watching me grind my pussy against the pole right in front of them. I haven't actually had sex with an older man, unless you count Randy West—no, that's mean. You got me horny now. I'm gonna have to watch a dirty movie!

JERICA FOX: My sister Jessica and I have both dated older men. If they've got a young spirit, young body and young face, why not?

DOMONIQUE SIMONE: Age isn't a big factor to me. I dated a guy who was 20 years older than me, and he was the biggest rat I had ever met in my life. He liked to have sex three or four times a day, and sometimes when I would come home from work really exhausted and tell him, "No, not now," he would pout and stomp out. There was no difference between dating him and someone who was 20, and that's true with a lot of older guys.

CHESSIE MOORE: They know how to treat a lady. And I think they eat pussy better! I find a lot of older men insist on making sure that the woman comes first. With younger guys, I hear, "I want you to come," but not, "I want you to come first."

I was once with a man who was 93. I was working parties, and it was his birthday. I did my strip show, and then his buddies basically paid me to have sex with him. We did everything—well, not everything, we didn't have anal sex—but a little titty fucking, oral sex. He hadn't had sex in quite a while. There isn't much difference between a 93-year-old cock and a 63-year-old one. To look at him you'd think—all the jokes, you know—"my first hard-on in 20 years, and my hand went to sleep." But no, he did just fine.

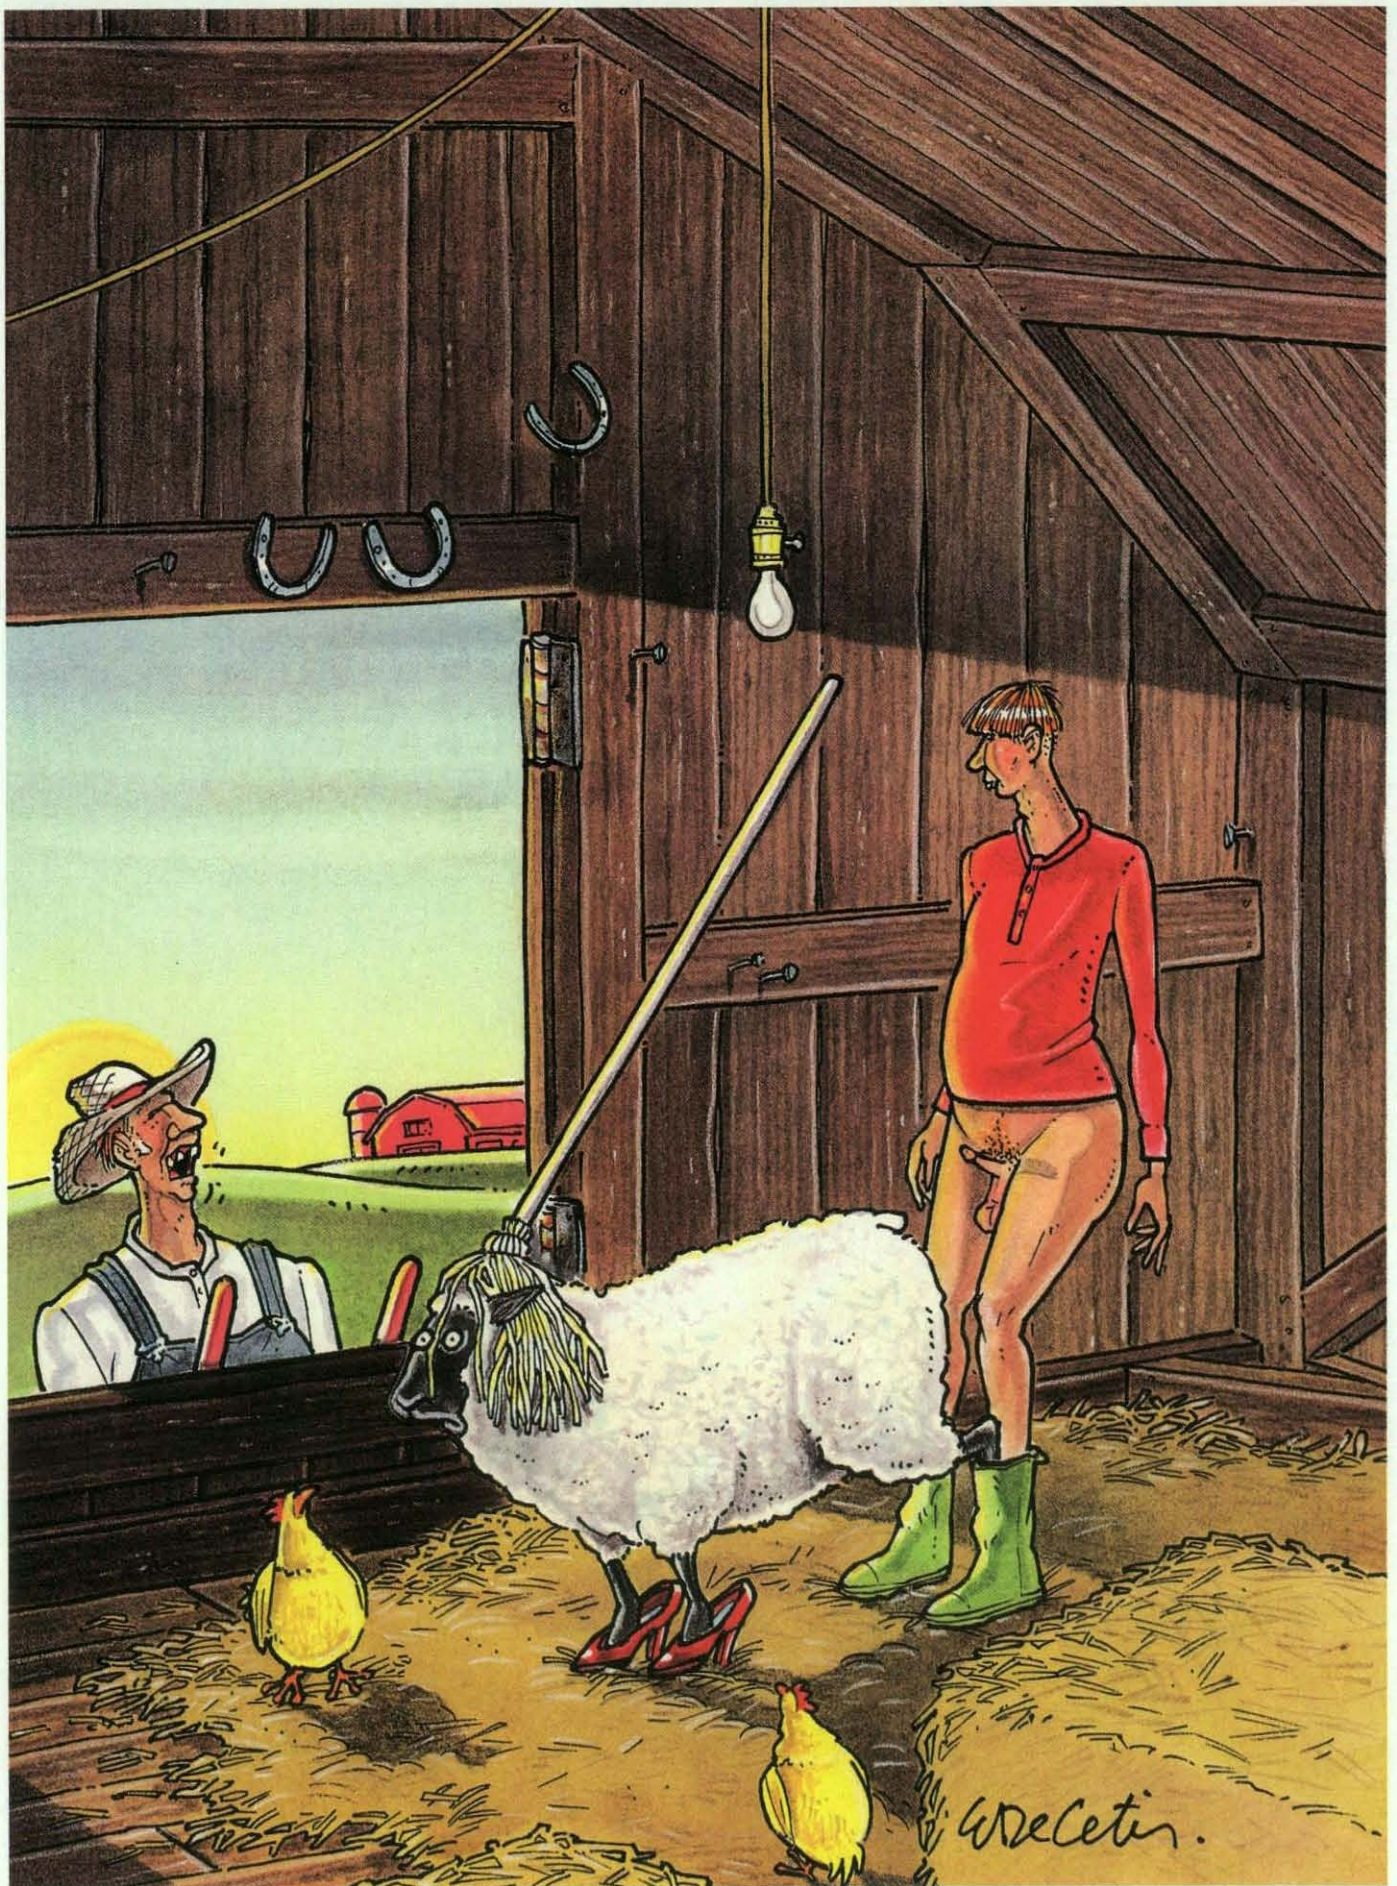

BIONCA: Since the age of 16 I've had older men in my life whenever I wanted them. There's a feeling of security with older men. I usually fall in love with someone younger, but I like to have an older guy on the side. That's the way they like it too. It adds a little spice to life. Some older men I've met are into kinky things. If you ask a young guy to put a dildo in his ass, it's like no way! An older guy will pretty much do it. They don't limit themselves because of their egos.

DANYEL CHEEKS: The majority of young guys I've known have been nightmares. Their idea of a date was taking me out to a keg party in the middle of nowhere where there was no bathroom. Older guys actually open the door for me. I like someone that treats me with respect. I treat them with respect in return, and everybody gets along better. Older guys taught me a lot about passionate sex. It's a whole different ball game they're into. They've shown me positions I didn't even know existed. One guy liked us both to lie on our stomachs, and he could get his dick turned up backward—to where we could fuck both lying on our stomachs!

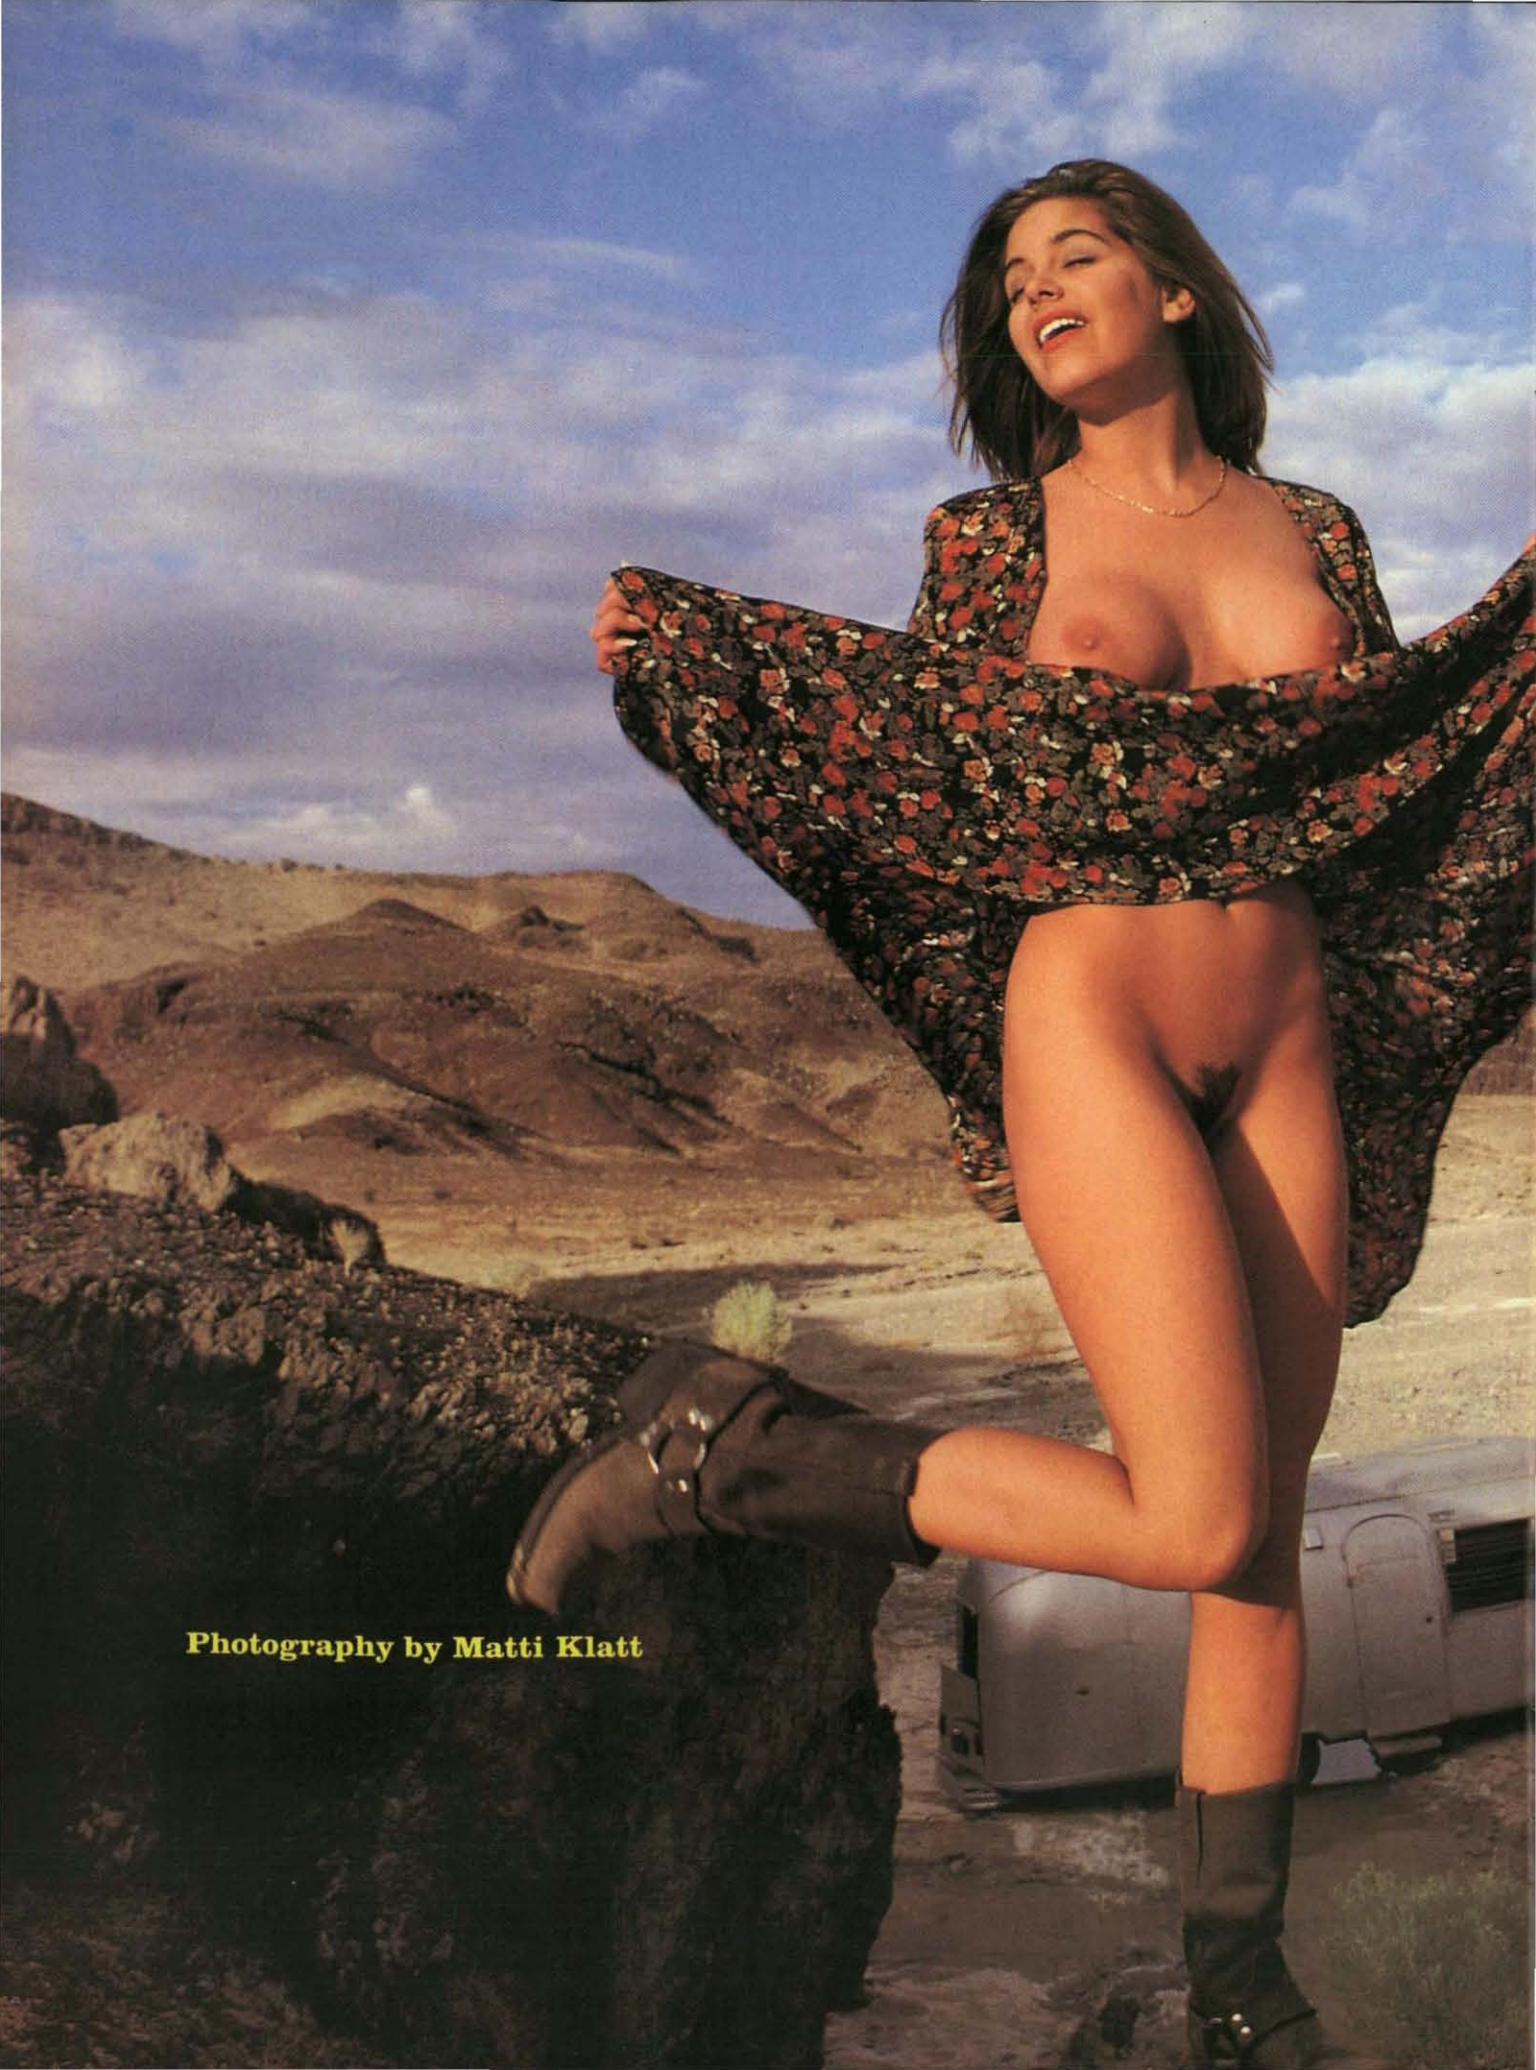

TERI DIVER: It's no secret that I've always been attracted to older men. I'm attracted to successful people, and most of the time they happen to be older men. Some guys just rip right through sex like wildfire. That kind of behavior has got its time and place, but I'm definitely happier with considerate lovemaking, and that comes most often with older men.

"...and, Mother, Rich sends his regards."

The death of communism has given birth to a potentially devastating new item for black marketeers—weapons-grade nuclear material.

A-BOMB

Russians and East Europeans trying to sell radioactive material have been arrested in private homes, hotel rooms, train stations, city parking lots and highway rest stops.

For two days in December 1992, a Belarussian and two Russians waited in the small border town of Brest, Belarus (a republic of the former Soviet Union and now an independent country), for two contacts from Poland to show up.

The trio possessed a lead capsule containing five and a half pounds of uranium, which they had stolen from a military installation in the former Soviet Union. The Poles were planning to buy the contraband and smuggle it into Poland for resale on the black market.

Luckily, police had been tipped off in advance of the rendezvous.

"We caught them in the middle of the transaction," announced Vasily S. Kapitan, chief of investigations in the Belarus state prosecutor's office. Law-enforcement officials throughout the Soviet Union and Europe breathed a sigh of relief. The material was not weapons-grade uranium and could not be used for making a nuclear bomb.

In international security circles, the term "loose nukes" has been coined to describe the growing industry in smuggling and sale of radioactive material from the former Soviet Union and East European nuclear facilities since the collapse of Russian-style communism.

"Radioactive material from the former Soviet Union is pouring into Western Europe," warns Peter Kromer, the Criminal Director in the German Federal Investigative Office, who is responsible for investigating the illegal traffic in radioactive materials. "In Germany, incidents of radioactive-material smuggling increased by 40% in 1991 and 1992."

Russians and East Europeans trying to sell radioactive material, from tiny flakes of plutonium to kilos of uranium, have been arrested in private homes, hotel rooms, train stations, city parking lots and highway rest stops.

• A Czech smuggler testified in court that he had carried two pounds of lightly enriched uranium in his car because he was trying to make up for profits lost in an illegal cigarette deal involving Russian sellers, Dutch buyers and a German middleman.

• In October 1992, German police arrested a Croatian-born Catholic priest who ministered in a small, conservative German town 100 miles from Munich, for attempting to broker arms and uranium for the Croatian government.

• Two Russian employees of a Russian military installation were arrested as they tried to drive off with an irradiated, seven-ounce plutonium container. According to police, the container emitted more radiation in just one hour than was considered safe for a person to be exposed to in more than a year. Incredibly, the crooks had sold other pieces of stolen plutonium to local dentists.

"In Russia today, and in some of the other former [Soviet] republics, the [economic situation] is so desperate that people will sell anything for hard currency," says David Kyd of the International Atomic Energy Agency, a United Nations Organization based in Vienna, Austria. "Scientists will sell themselves if they have to, because the future is so bleak for those who worked in the Soviet nuclear-armaments industry."

Profit, not safety, is the black marketers' concern. Aspiring nuclear states—and, possibly, terrorists—are eager to procure an adequate supply of the two materials vital to making nuclear bombs: highly enriched uranium (used as the core of the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima) and plutonium (used as the core in the bomb that hit Nagasaki).

"It's easy to smuggle plutonium or highly enriched uranium," says David Kay, Secretary General of the Uranium Institute, an England-based international trade association. "A single sheet of typing paper can be used to shield plutonium, so it can't be detected. However, plutonium is toxic and can burn; so it's a little more difficult to smuggle than enriched uranium."

In a surprisingly blunt and revealing report to the U.S. Congress in February 1993, CIA Director R. James Woolsey explained the seriousness of the situation.

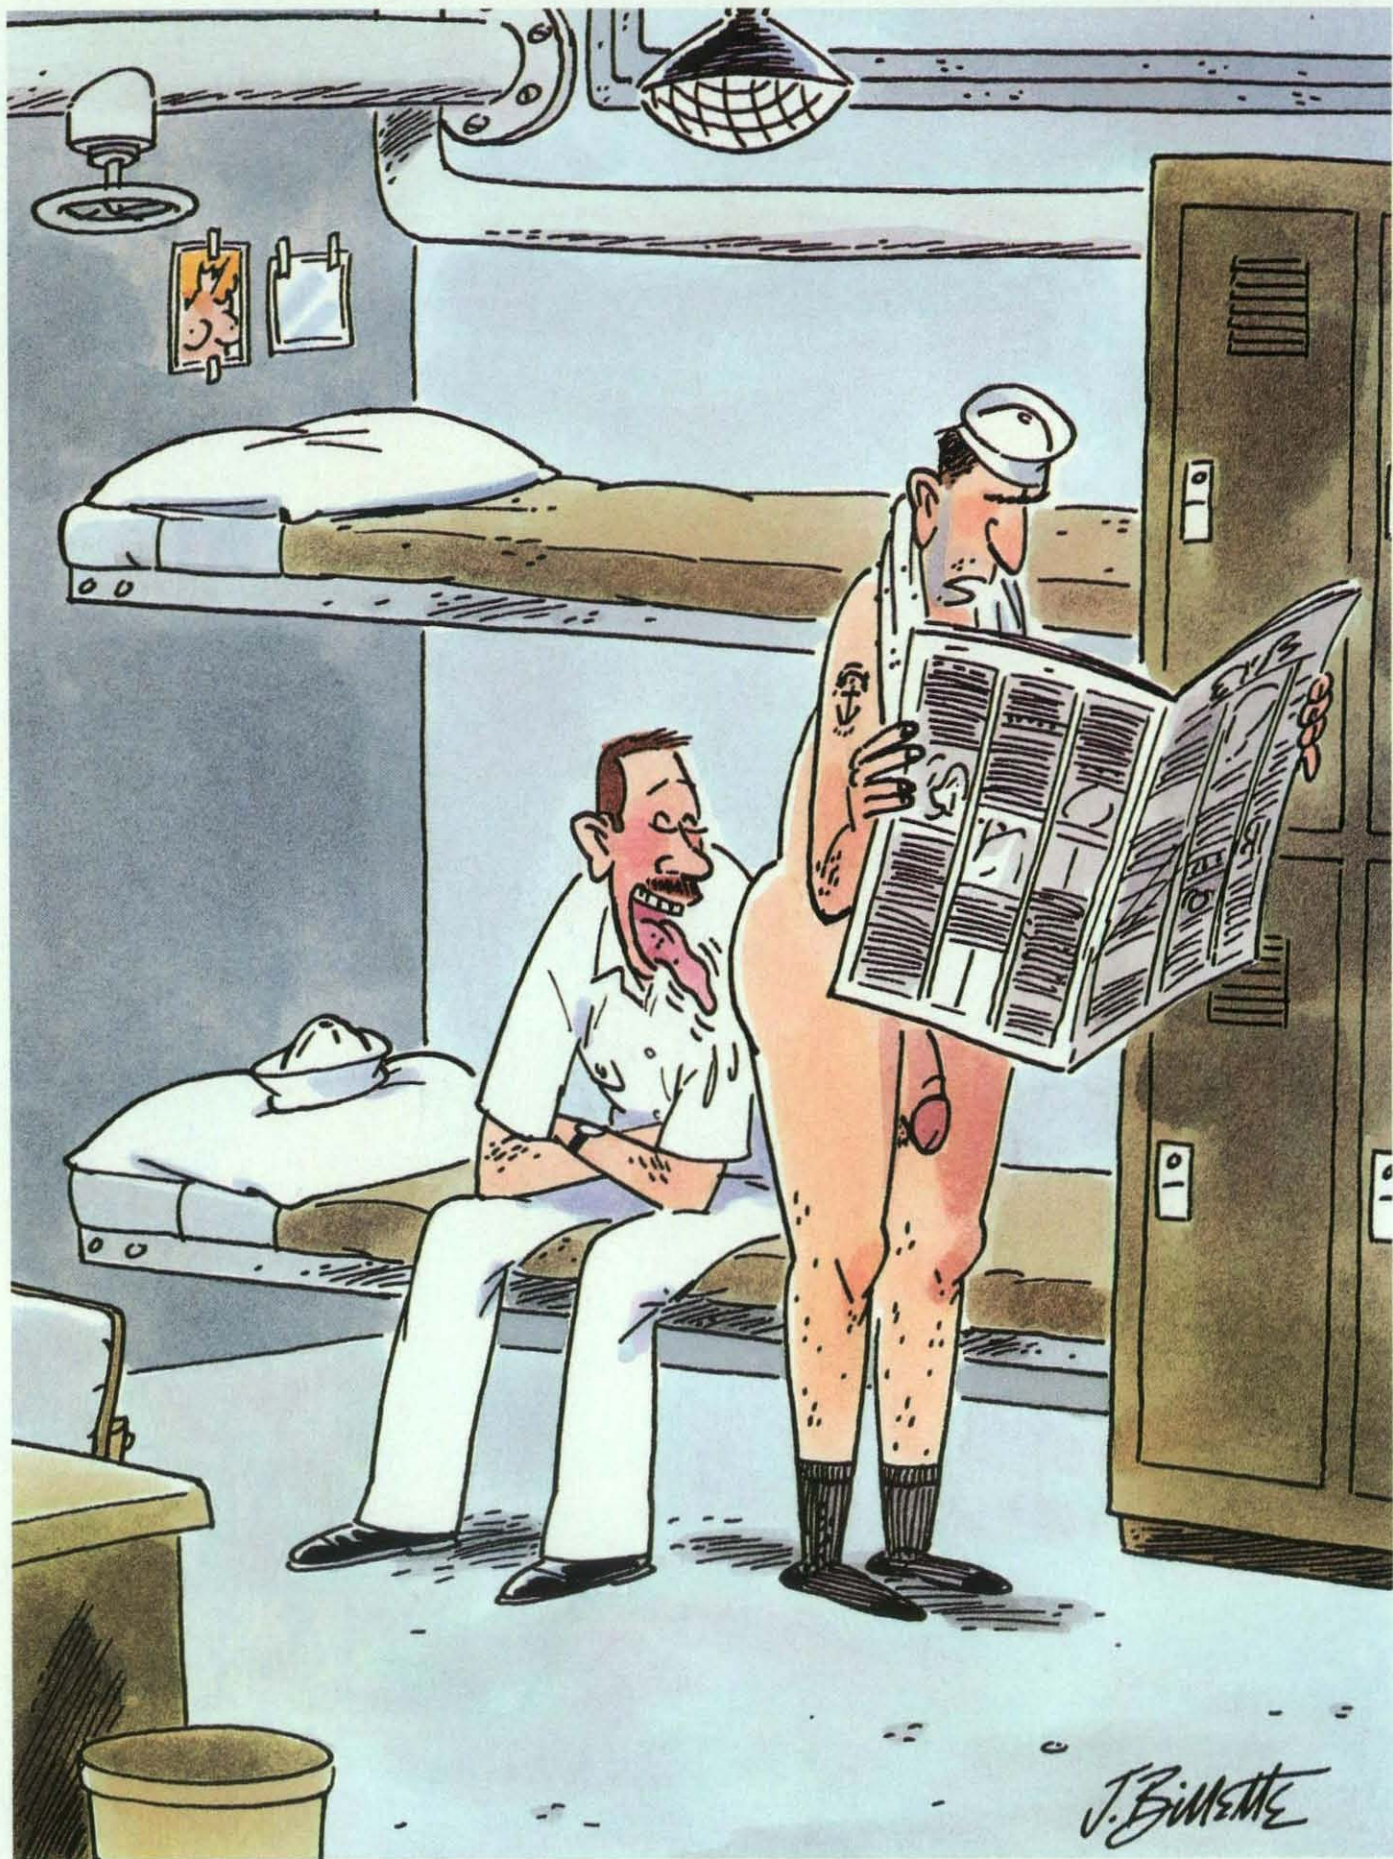

"We are facing a sophisticated hydra of suppliers," Woolsey stated. "For every shipment we [curtail], new suppliers appear, willing to manufacture, broker, sell and transport material for any and all clients, no matter how dangerous or unsavory. We detect little reduction in demand for weapons of mass destruction. As long as nations perceive these weapons as enhancing their security, and others are willing to sell, we have our work cut out for us. Nations that seek these weapons, such as Iran, Iraq and North Korea, aren't going to give up."

U.S. officials have publicly voiced concern about the loose nuke problem. At a November 1991 press conference, then President-elect Bill Clinton said he was

HUSTLER HUMOR

Every night the man would stagger home drunk, and his wife would meet him at the door to give him a real tongue-lashing. One day, some of her friends told her that she was going about it all wrong.

"When he comes home next time," they told her, "have a sandwich ready for him, and treat him nicely."

She figured it was worth a shot. When he came home that night, she greeted him pleasantly. "I'm so happy to see you, baby. Why don't we go into the kitchen, have a bite to eat, talk for a bit and then go to bed?"

"Okay, why not?" he slurred. "I'm gonna catch hell when I get home anyway."

Question: What are the three major political parties in the United States?

Answer: Democratic, Republican and Cocktail.

The old graybeard walked up to the hot, little jailbait number at the bar and said, "Where have you been all my life, sweet thing?"

"Teething," she replied.

The HUSTLER Dictionary defines Florida as: God's waiting room.

Jonathan Gold was driving down the street with his family when they saw a sign on an evangelical Christian church that said, "Give your life to Jesus—$500 reward to converts."

The deal was too good to pass up; so Gold pulled over to the church, rushed inside, converted to Christianity, and collected his reward. When he got back into the car, his wife said, "That's a lot of money. I want a fur coat."

His daughter chimed in, "I want diamond earrings."

His son said, "I need a new bike."

Gold shook his head sadly. "It's always the same story. We Gentiles get some money, and you Jews want to take it away."

An avid golfer hit his ball into the woods. When he went to look for it, he stumbled upon a leprechaun brewing up a mysterious concoction.

"What are you making?" asked the golfer.

"This is a magic brew," said the leprechaun, "and if you drink it, your golf game will improve remarkably. You'll never lose again."

"That's great—let me have some!" cried the golfer.

"Have as much as you like, but I must warn you, there is one serious side effect: It will almost certainly diminish your sexual desires."

"I can live with that," responded the golfer, and he gulped the potion down.

To his utter delight, the golfer found that it actually worked. He won every match, and in six months found himself the club champion. He was so happy that he decided to look for the leprechaun in order to thank him.

"It worked!" said the golfer. "It really did! I'm now the club champion!"

"Yes, but what about your sex life?" questioned the leprechaun.

"It's okay," answered the golfer. "I've had sex three or four times in the past six months."

"That doesn't sound very good to me."

"Hey, it's not bad at all, for a Catholic priest in a small parish."

Question: Where are two places that even the most undesirable people can get laid?

Answer: Prison and animal shelters.

A young hillbilly went to a whorehouse for his first lay. When he told the madam he was a virgin, she showed him how to put on a rubber, rolling it down on her thumb. The young man trotted upstairs. After he fucked the girl, she said, "That rubber must have broken. I feel all wet inside."

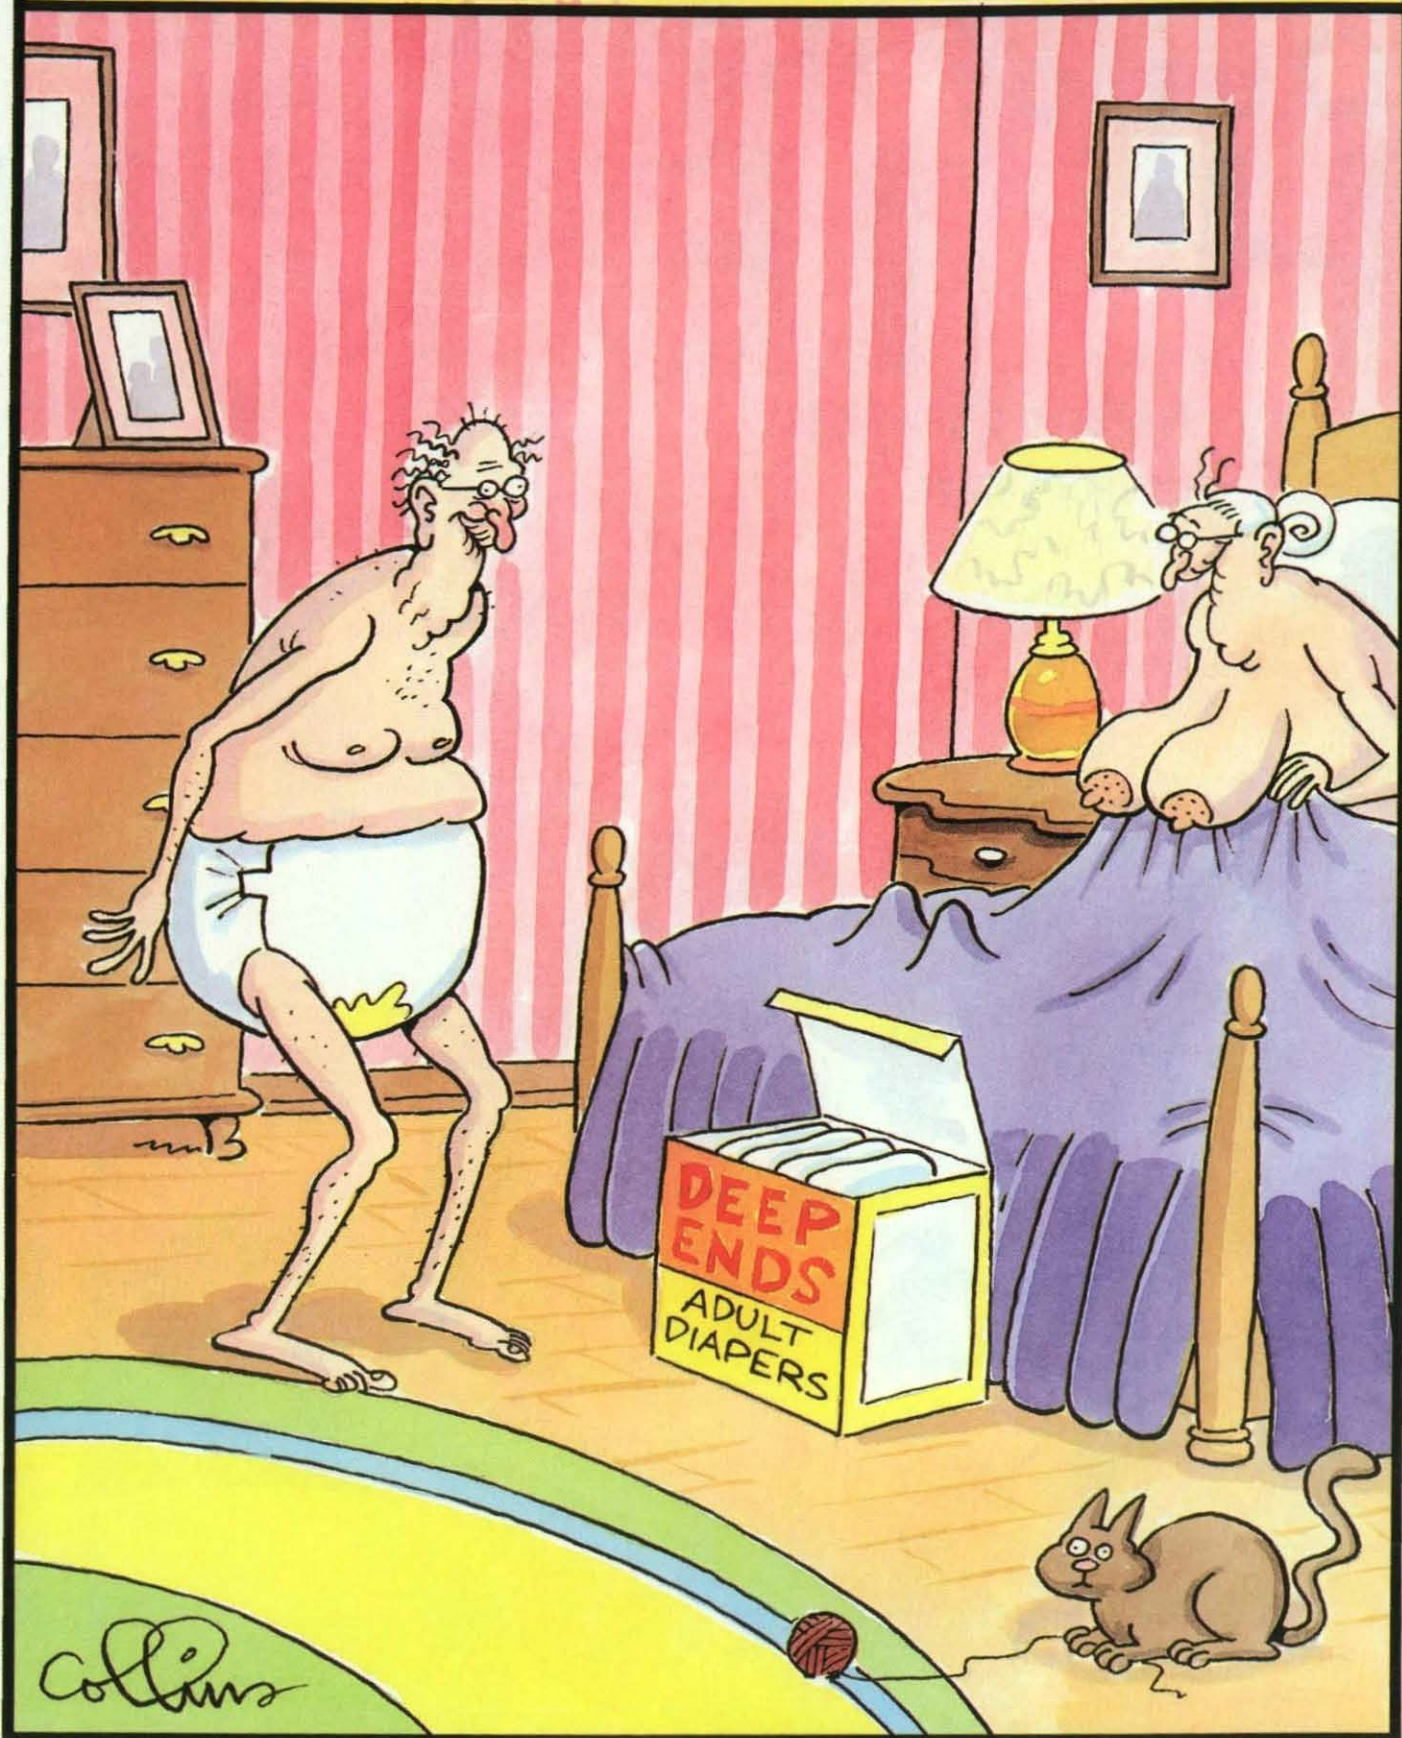

The rube held up his thumb and said, "No, it didn't. It's just as good as new."

The rugrat walked into the living room and asked, "Pop, can I have ten dollars to buy a guinea pig?"

The biker told his son, "Kid, here's 20 bucks. Go find a nice Irish girl."

30 DAYS Out of the HOLE

My 4 1/2 Weeks in a Sex-Addict
Recovery Center

Undercover With Alex Marvel

There is a solution for problem fuckers. Part clinic, part concentration camp, sex rehab is a place where sad jackoffs go to get screwed.

SEX ADDICT

"Rimjobs...rimjobs and unprotected butt-fucking, ass-reaming with no condom," mused Dr. Chester, "that's where I might draw the line."

When I got to the clinic, I didn't want to shake anybody's hand. Sex addicts generally resort to their own fingers as partner-of-choice.

"Hi," said a pimple-face in rock-shag hair. "I'm Scott, and I'm a sex addict."

"I'm Tim," offered a balding stick figure next to Scott. His clammy palm sought my re-treating fist. "I'm dependent on pornography."

"My name is John," confessed a sneaky-eyed blubberball, rounding out the welcoming committee, "and I'm powerless over my sexual urges."

I'm Alex Marvel, I thought as an air-tight, institutional-green door sealed shut behind me. And I've made the biggest mistake of my entire fucking life.

Sex has always loomed large in my waking, sleeping and semi-conscious thoughts. For the sake of a fuck, I have compromised my ethics, squandered money and inebriants and settled into a dead-end career that leaves plenty of time to bully, beg and grovel for pussy. I discern no problem in such behavior.

Still, I'd gotten into trouble because of sex. My difficulties were rooted in a woman who claimed to be in love with me. She was crazy.

My dog chased her up the block, but she kept coming back.

My solution was to seek professional help. I began soliciting prostitutes and taking them back to my pad. My plan was to let Daryl, the nut, catch me with these other women, freak out and never call me again. After the seventh or eighth prostitute, Daryl may have gotten the message, but I wanted to be sure. I continued recruiting prostitutes, as many as three a day.

I soon ran out of money, but the scheme was working so well that I was loathe to give it up. To raise cash, I resorted to selling Scamway products to everyone I knew, and I paid the girls with jugs of cleanser concentrate.

Eventually, dissatisfied Scamway customers and distributors came looking for me. I didn't have the goods; I didn't have the cash. All I had were bags under my eyes and a latex rash on my pubes. I needed time to rest and regroup, and I needed a place to hide. I saw a TV special on pornography and a community of zealots attempting to overcome their smut addiction.

No one would ever look for me in a place like that.

Sex rehab is a relatively new phenomenon; most of the insurance-scramming facilities are located out in deserts or scrubland, at least two hours' ride from any metropolitan temptations.

A bus transported me on the final, 90-mile leg to the sexual-deprivation tank that I would call home.

"You get off here," said the driver.

Here was a stand of four mailboxes next to a break in a wire fence. The bus shrank to the size of a pea as it rolled down the highway.

A pickup stopped on the other side of the wire fence. Some kind of cowboy got out, chucked my luggage into the pickup bed and motioned to the cab. The cowboy put the truck into gear, and we lurched forward.

The wind blew dirt up into the air. We drove through swirls of dust and sand. I was filled with dreadful misgivings, in a cocoon of zero visibility. Suddenly, the truck slid around a gravel corner and came out of the silt cloud. I was given my first glimpse of the compound. No barbed wire, no fences at all, encircled the cluster of buildings. I interpreted this as an encouraging sign.

Dr. Chester is not his real name, but it will do. He sat on the business side of a vast, mahogany desk. Even at that distance, I could see that he was excessively scrubbed.

"You are a man of courage," intoned Dr. Chester. I attempted to count the major craters on his face, but abandoned the effort after reaching triple digits. He didn't seem angry at the moment, but he'd been furious in the past. "Most men don't have the guts to acknowledge their sex addiction. Fewer yet have the balls to do something about it."

I was uncomfortable with Dr. Chester saying the word balls. A portrait of Jesus and a crucifix were the only decorations on the walls. I wondered what sort of man moves to the middle of the desert to set up a sex rehab.

"I don't have anything against pussy," Dr. Chester said in an accusatory manner. "I didn't found Dust Bowl Health Ranch because I'm uptight about people fucking. Sucking cock is not inherently evil." His lips and tongue put a spit-flicking spin on each vulgarity. "Even eating pussy has merits."

Dr. Chester came around the desk and gazed intently down at me. I could probably take this freak, I thought, if he tries to kiss me. But there were a billion acres of hostile nothing outside the door, and two male nurses flattened against the wall.

"Rimjobs...rimjobs and unprotected butt-fucking, ass-reaming with no condom," mused Dr. Chester, "that's where I might draw the line."

Dr. Chester was testing my reactions to the sex acts as he shouted them out.

"Felching—sucking your own semen from a partner's grimy rectum. Fist fucking. Masturbating in public restrooms while licking the inside of soiled toilet bowls. Do you begin to see the problem, Mr. Marvel?"

SEX ADDICT

When Grip stared too long at the dog's haunches as it crouched at the feed bowl, his mother had the animal removed by the city pound.

I saw a problem. If I reacted with revulsion, Dr. Chester would presume my distaste was feigned. On the other hand, he would interpret nonchalance as jaded depravity. I hoped that I was doing okay, but I doubted it.

"You see the problem, Mr. Marvel," observed Dr. Chester, pinning me to my seat with his penetrating gaze, "and we will show you the solution. You're a good man, Mr. Marvel."

"How'd it go?" asked gangly Tim, referring to my intake meeting with Chester.

"Did it get too hard?" queried shifty-eyed John, doubled over with pangs of concern.

"Did what get too hard?" I demanded.

"You know," accused rock 'n' dolt Scott, bent at the waist. "It."

I realized that they had a problem. I hoped I wouldn't catch it.

Over the course of treatment, I got to know my squad partners better than I wanted to. There were no secrets at Dust Bowl Health Ranch, with one exception: No one would tell me if their sex dependence had gotten better or worse during their stay.

The day-to-day routine at Dust Bowl Health Ranch aped a sort of monk-like existence. We were all up at six a.m., far too early to play spank the monkey. Daybreak signaled "reflective" time, an opportunity for meditation and mental cleansing. Reflective time took place on a hard-packed dirt quad. The entire client population stood in nightshirts, the stiff morning breeze shooting desert chill between our legs. On particularly cold mornings, I attempted to warm myself with memories of prostitutes of my youth, but I was sure not to get too warm. Staff members patrolled the rows of reflecting patients, searching for signs of sexual stimulation.

Every waking activity at Dust Bowl Health Ranch took place under the scrutiny of arousal sentinels. When evidence of prurient thoughts arose, it was struck down with a thwack on the corona from a monitor's steel ruler.

After reflection, we filed wordlessly into the mess hall and took our seats. Some of us marched into the kitchen to serve gruel. Hired hands, such as kitchen help, were minimized at Dust Bowl. Patients themselves did the bulk of the work. These chores were presented as part of the therapy, but resident labor reduced Dr. Chester's overhead.

Following breakfast, the residents assembled in the conference room for the director's morning address.

Dr. Chester's first rant of the day followed a simple pattern: "Sex is not a sin. We are not sinners. Our urges are not evil. We are not bad people. An obsession is not insanity. We are not crazy men. We have a malady of the libido, an instinct run rampant, and we will train it, domesticate it, tame it."

The remainder of the waking day was dedicated to busting the sexual bronco. The approximately 40 jackoffs broke into groups of five or six (the optimal circle-jerk number) for small-group discussion. After the talk, all hands went out for field work—digging, painting, planting, paving, chopping wood, hauling debris, tearing out stumps, whatever would leave a man bone-tired. Physical exhaustion diverted energies from sexual pursuits and broke down inmate resistance to the line of crap served up at Big Group Chat.

Big Group Chat was the day's most fearsome event. A sole dick-slapper would be picked out to recite his story, chart the progress of his recovery, fend off attacks from Dr. Chester and staff, and endure the derisive hoots of the other patients.

After lunch we underwent more field therapy.

Dinner ranged from bad to worse. The early evening was recreation time: allowed activities included cards, polite conversation, checkers. Sometimes we saw an approved movie; otherwise, the TV was off limits. Too many scanty girlies in the commercials.

A bout of silent, group meditation consumed the 40 minutes before lights out.

Within six days I had lost the ability to visualize any woman I had ever fucked or wanted to fuck. I was in serious trouble.

"It's something they put in the food," said roly-poly Johnnie. "It's saltpeter or an equivalent. Destroys the sex drive."

Still, Johnnie couldn't stop eating. He finished off everybody's scraps. I'd lost 15 pounds. I wouldn't eat anything that a kitchen worker might have jerked off into.

Milton "Powergrip" Schlutz had an adaptable sexuality. Powergrip lived with his mother. His mother knew her son's mind as though she had created it. When Aunt Jemima snared Power's attention at the breakfast table, mama switched to Log Cabin. She cancelled the newspaper subscription when she spied Grip lingering over the comics section—Blondie, Sally Forth, Wendy. When Grip stared too long at the dog's haunches as it crouched at the feed bowl, his mother had the animal removed by the city pound.

One day Powergrip came home to find all his stroke books arrayed on the living-room sofa. His mother was there, along with the ladies of her bridge club. Mother insisted that Powergrip expose himself in front of her friends, who took turns chastising him.

Powergrip's mother ruined normal pornography for him. Peep shows and strip bars held zero appeal. He developed a fixation with dolls, the type made by Mattel and Hasbro. He lurked in toy stores, but such loitering aroused suspicions, though kids held no appeal to Powergrip. "I'm not a pervert," he insisted in the spotlight at Big Chat. Nonetheless, Powergrip's play-doll obsession led him to squeeze through the skylight of a department store five hours after closing time. Police found Powergrip in the toy aisle, trousers around his ankles, hand cranking automatically. Three Baby Sleeps-A-Lots would never open their eyes again, lashes glued shut with the adhesive of Power's splooge.

During a screening of Home Alone 2, Powergrip was busted yanking his dong to the open-mouthed and twitching vision of Macaulay Culkin. The outside world will be a less safe place upon Powergrip's release.

Not all fuckups are created equal. "Scooter Shavers" was the clinical nickname for a less-than-man whose shame over his two-inch penis eventually landed him in the middle of the desert, exposing his genital deficiency to six of us during a small-group discussion. To a man, we professed to accept Shavers as a peer, dick or no dick. To a man, we were totally fucking glad it was him and not us.

Scooter worked in the research department for an international office-equipment conglomerate. He'd seen statistics and read psychological profiles. He'd charted his own hostility toward women. His sex life had been lived with hookers, none of whom he could look in the eye after they'd seen his half-bite piece. He'd catch the smirk as they lipped his butt, and he'd want to break their necks. Scooter diagnosed himself as a serial rapist waiting to happen. He had signed into Dust Bowl voluntarily, and he was afraid to leave.

"I'd enter the priesthood," he confessed over a game of checkers, "except they're into so much fucking."

Some patients locked themselves up to treat the wrong ailment. Juice Jones, named after the knockout homebrew he cooked up in a still hidden beneath a back garden compost pile, prefaced every sordid story with an estimation of how long he'd been drinking. "I'd been hitting the juice about six hours," went his typical pitch, "when suddenly, I got a ballin' jones. I was at work. Can't tell you at what, reasons of national security. But the next thing I knew, I came to, and I was underneath my secretary. She was not happy to be on top. I'm here to save my job. A large portion of this country's future hinges upon my success."

Juice is now trying to save his job in prison. He'd been juicing steadily on his homemade hooch and took his ballin' jones out to the barn, where he introduced it to a milk cow.

The beast hardly noticed, but a fellow patient, with an eye for erotic detail, captured the event on a contraband Polaroid camera. When the second patient was discovered masturbating over the shots of Juice and his moo love, the images became evidence, and Jones was transferred from Health Ranch to honor farm.

Despite the opportunity to meet world-class eccentrics, Dust Bowl Health Ranch grew old. I was in the shower, standing there in my underwear. I wanted to be naked, if only when I was by myself. I had not had a boner in 16 days, and I could not conceive of having one again. As a shower monitor squinted menacingly at me, I soaped myself vigorously through the cotton fabric of my briefs. Would life ever throb down there again?

My day in the Big Chat limelight came, and then I went. My story, a confessional about spending more on prostitutes than I earned, struck the other inmates as bland. I was embarrassed at its comparative moderation myself, and attempted to spice it up.

Unfortunately, my further admissions (that I enjoyed the aroma of female panties and had on occasion licked the toes of women I barely knew) only irritated my audience of hard-core guilt freaks.

"Don't patronize us," heckled Powergrip Schlitz, squirming in the rear of the auditorium. "You're not ashamed of anything you've told us. What's the real dirt on you?"

"He's happy about fucking hookers and sticking his nose into stinky places," piped up dick squeak Scooter Shavers. "He wants to get out and do more. He's hiding what he's really afraid of—he's hiding it from us, and he's hiding it from himself."

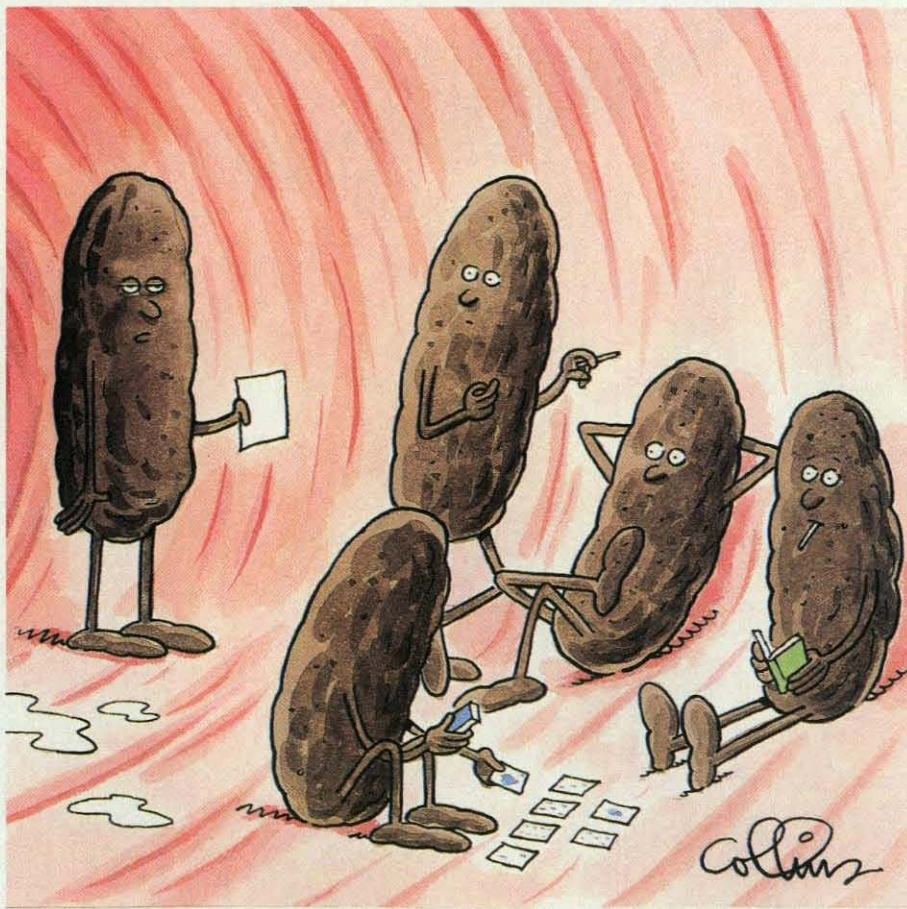

"Fuck you both," I offered in the interests of diplomacy. "I've enjoyed every ejaculation I've ever had. I don't feel bad about any single one of them."

"Then why are you here?" demanded Tim, a gangly jagoff and one of my squad partners.

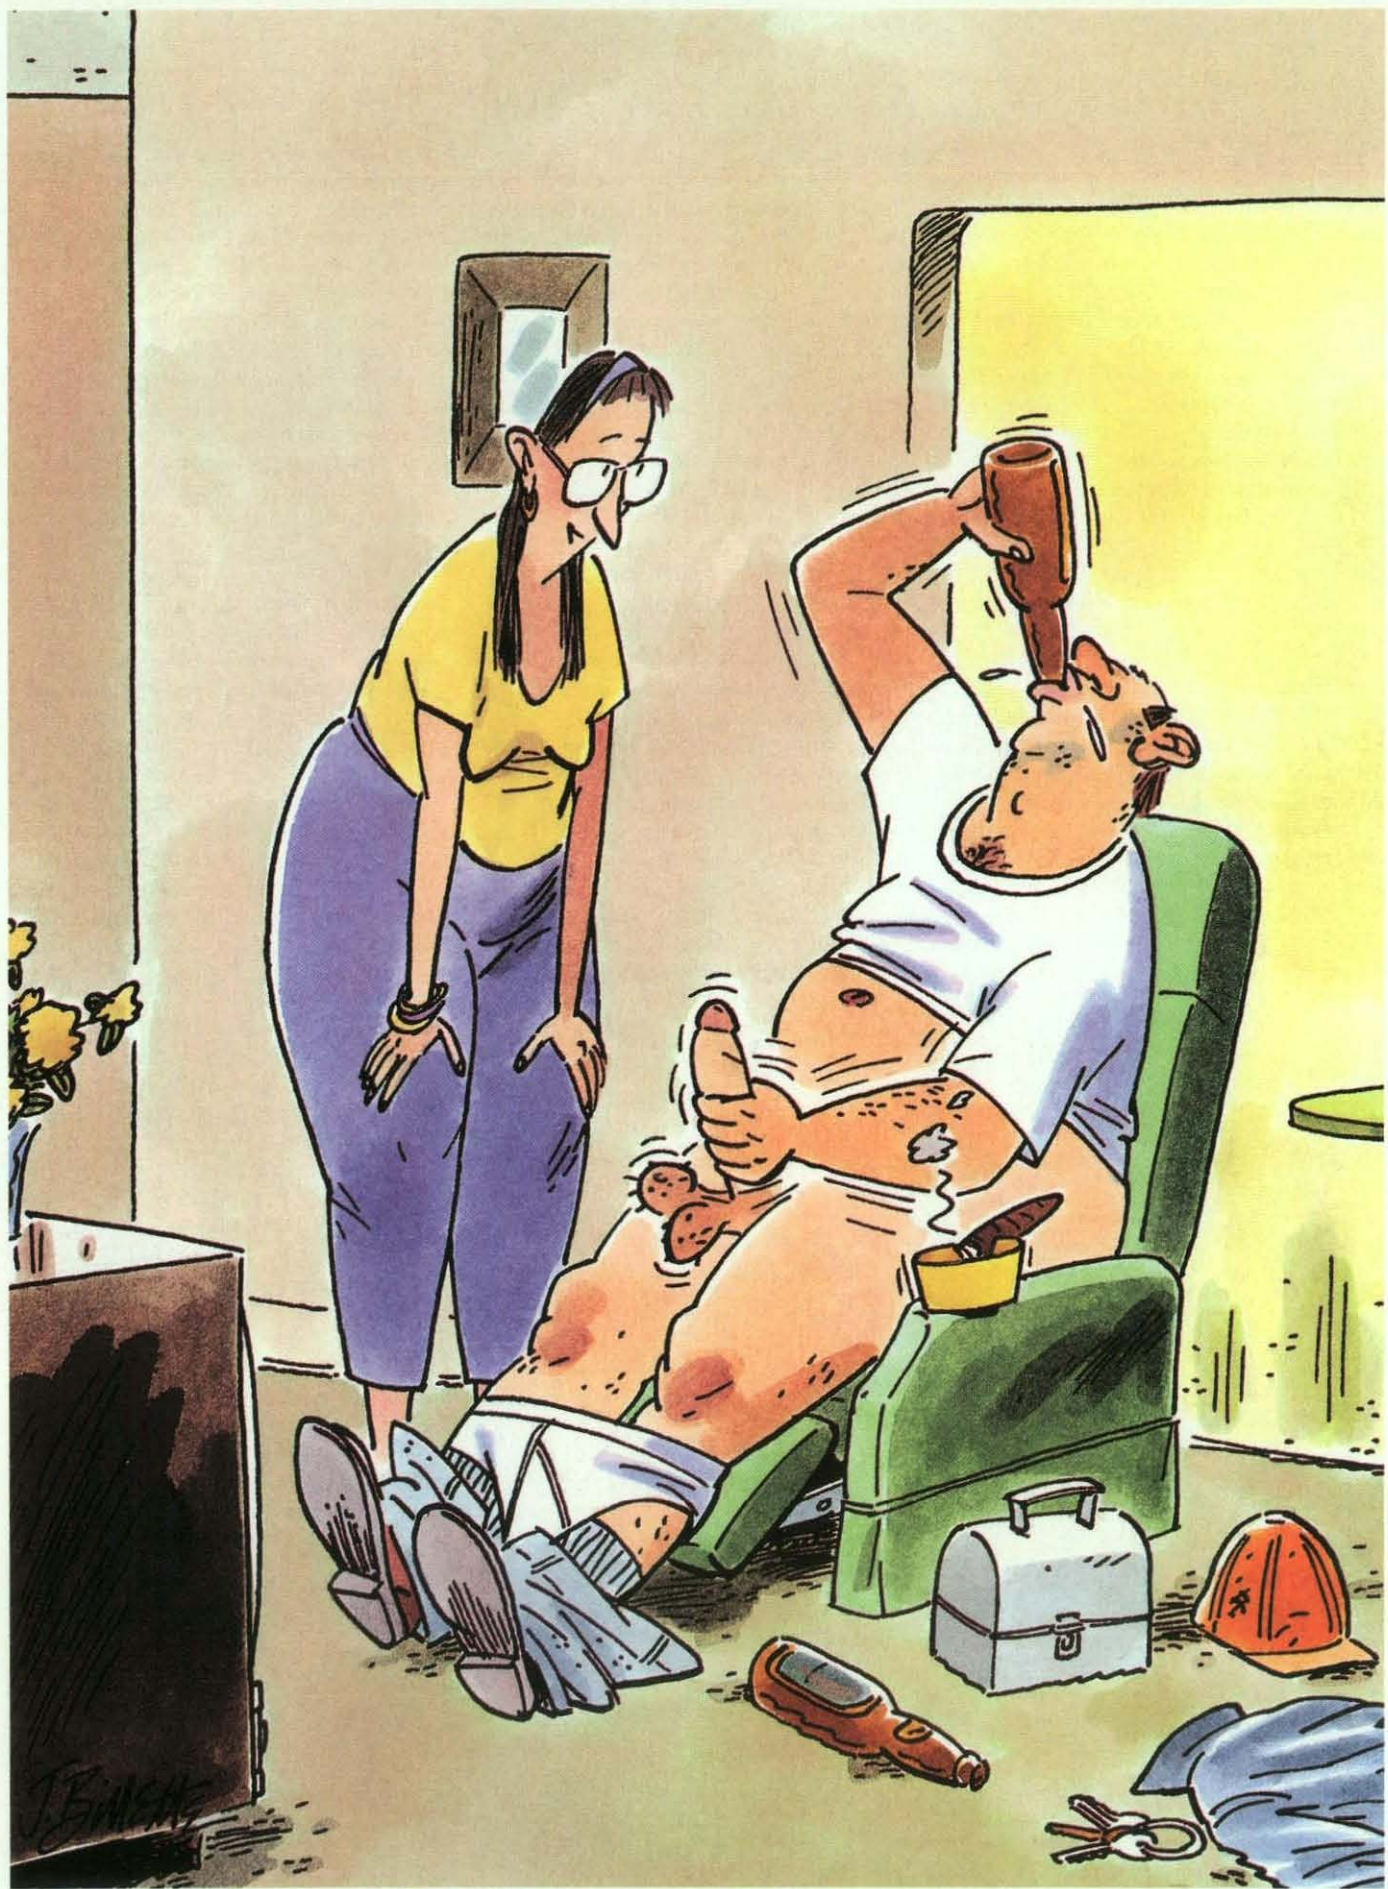

"He's never opened up about anything," accused shag head Scott, another team player.

"Alex is hiding something," surmised

"All you need is six kilograms of plutonium to build a nuclear bomb like the one that destroyed Nagasaki during World War II."

worried about the possible proliferation of nuclear weapons, citing a recent seizure of six to seven pounds of enriched uranium in Germany.

After returning from a trip to the former Soviet Union in 1992, Senator Sam Nunn, Chairman of the Senate Arms Services Committee, revealed that Belarus officials told him enriched uranium might have already been smuggled across the border.

In 1991, Nunn and Senator Richard Lugar sponsored a law providing for $55 million in U.S. aid to help former republics collect, screen and disarm nuclear weapons.

In February 1993, Leoluca Orlando, the former mayor of Palermo, Italy, and a leading Mafia opponent, accused the Italian mob of trading heroin for weapons-grade uranium and arms in the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

"As in 1957, when the mafia left smuggling cigarettes for the trafficking of narcotics, [today] they are leaving drugs to traffic in arms," Orlando revealed.

Former FBI agent James Sutton, now Director of the Office of Security

Studies Programs at the University of Illinois at Chicago, believes that, while the organized crime/loose nuke connection is difficult to prove, the possibility is logical.

"The Mafia will smuggle anything of value," Sutton explains. "There is certainly a market for nuclear weapons-grade materials. The incentive is there. Since the former Soviet Union is heavily involved in the drug trade, it's simply a matter of using the same routes for another form of contraband. The evolution of the problem is identical to what happened in Colombia, where the people smuggling emeralds in the 1940s and '50s are the same people involved in smuggling of marijuana and cocaine into the U.S. today."

According to the Moscow newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda, 433 grenades, 99,000 rounds of ammunition and 52 portable missile-launching systems were officially listed as missing from the disenfranchised Soviet military in 1992. In addition, the navy somehow lost 10,000 tons of fuel, as well as such hard-to-handle items as propellers and anchors.

The numbers were more than the losses reported for all the previous 40 years.

In March 1992, French television secretly filmed black-market negotiations to smuggle enriched weapons-grade uranium from the former Soviet Union to the West. In the film, a Moscow stockbroker can be seen negotiating the sale of uranium by a Russian gang leader to a lawyer working for a foreign company with Russian connections. The deal involved the exchange of $500,000 for slightly more than two pounds of enriched uranium.

When, at one point in the proceedings, the Russian gang leader expresses fear of arrest and seizure, the lawyer answers, "Don't worry. Any customs official can be bought."

Norway's Foreign Ministry reports that businessmen in the former Soviet Union have offered a Norwegian firm heavy water, which can be used to make nuclear weapons. One deal allegedly involved six to eight metric tons of heavy water for a price ranging between $2.76- and $3.42 million.

In December 1992, Russian police recovered 200 pounds of stolen non-weapons-grade uranium and arrested 11 members of a gang of nuclear smugglers. Meanwhile, authorities acknowledged that 3.3 pounds of uranium stolen from a scientific facility at Podolsk near Moscow was highly enriched.

"Thefts [are being carried out] by people directly linked to the technical processes, who know them superbly," says a Russian official who asks to be unnamed. "They know how to steal bit by bit so it cannot be detected."

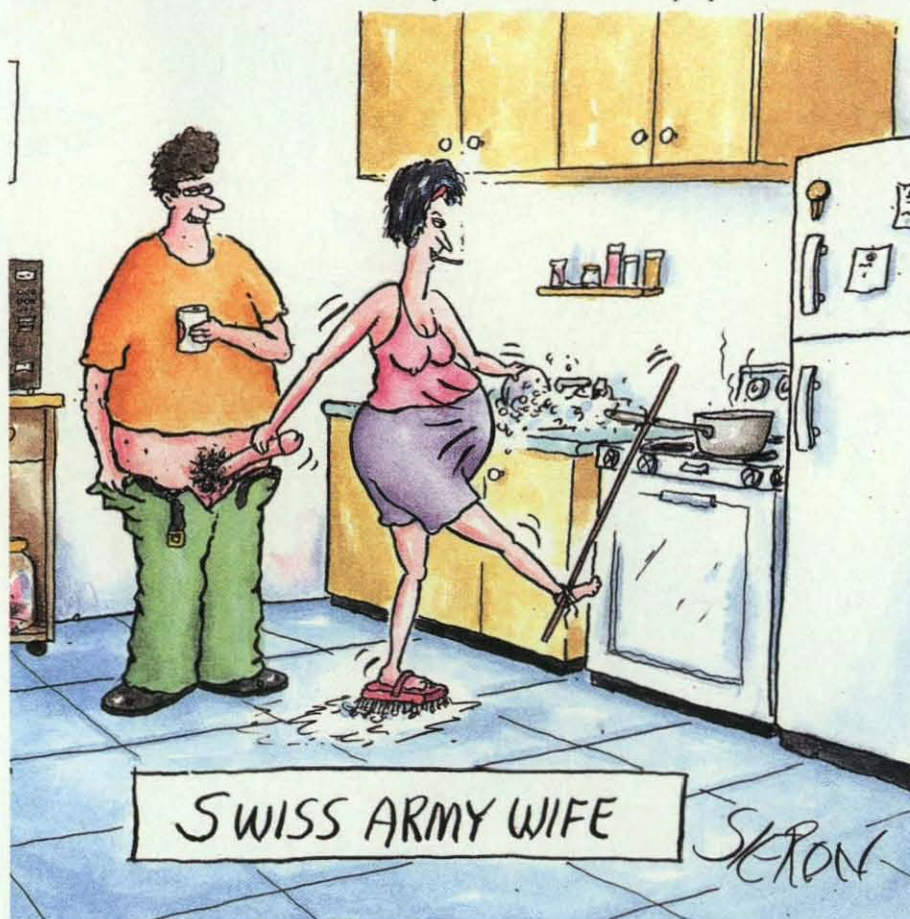

"Recently," states David Kay, "I was talking to a lab director at a Russian [nuclear weapons] facility, and he told me his salary was $30 [U.S.] a month. You can imagine what the guy who is guarding the gate on the midnight shift is making. Those are the guys we have to worry about. They will be tempted to look the other way if someone wants to sneak something through the fence."

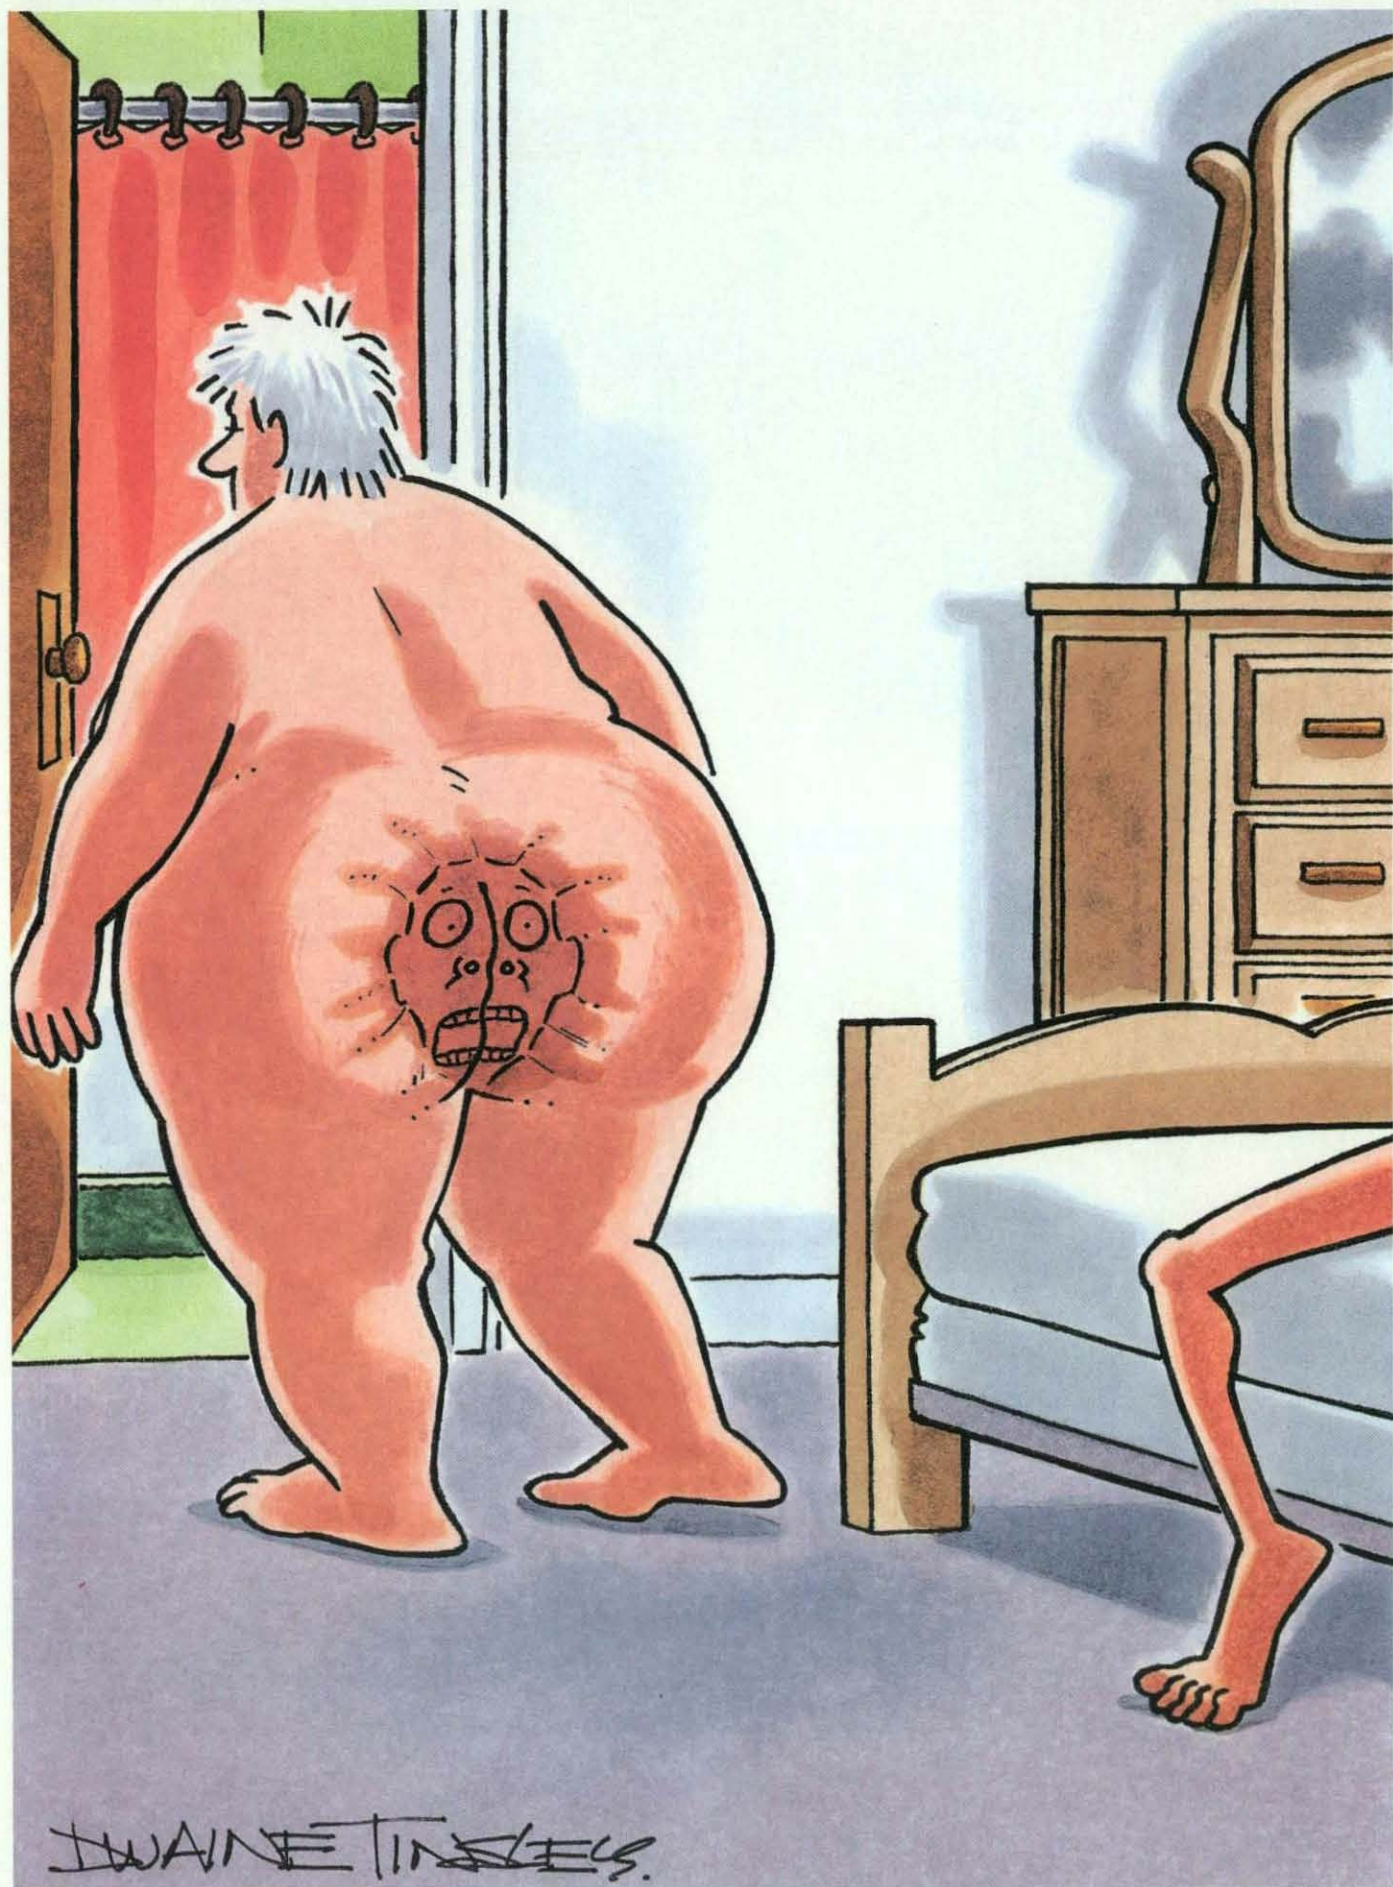

According to Kay, the Russian government has acknowledged that it has about 800 tons of enriched uranium and more than 120 tons of plutonium in stock.

Kay puts those figures in context: "Say you have the ability and knowledge to build a nuclear bomb. All you need is six kilograms of plutonium to build a nuclear bomb like the one that destroyed Nagasaki during World War II. Twenty-five kilograms of enriched uranium is enough to build a simple nuclear device."

Clearly, there is plenty of uranium and plutonium in the former Soviet Union to worry about.

Be it guns or her husband's cock, Ali likes things that shoot. This 22-year-old property manager also likes taking pictures around her home in Newport News, Virginia. Proving that seven really is a lucky number, she fantasizes about sex with six women and her husband. Oh lucky man!

*Wish

She calls herself Lovey Juggs and, yes, she's an exotic dancer. Those planning a trip to Staten Island, New York, can see her strip and also help this 32-year-old fulfill a fantasy of keeping a harem of young boys to pleasure her. She's interested in fashion design and illustration and collects Barbie dolls, along with young boys.

Being a homemaker and mother of three is a full-time occupation for 22-year-old Joelda. She relaxes with a pole between her legs—she likes to fish. She also likes camping in the hills around Castle Rock, Colorado, and wants someday to be chained up and taken by two men at once.

Sexy Cindi is good with her hands. She's a 23-year-old manicurist in Tigard, Oregon, who'd love to travel and see the world. Until then, she fantasizes about a muscular stranger spinning her globes after hours in the back of her salon. And she wouldn't even need a passport.

Bill collectors suck! But they wouldn't be so hated if they all looked like Donna of Indianapolis, Indiana. She's 24 years old and likes going out and traveling. Her fantasy? "Having six men shoot their cum all over my face." And it wouldn't cost them a dime.

After a hard day's work, this office manager loves to stretch out in the nude. Mouth-watering Melanie is 22 years old, lives in Greenfield, Wisconsin, and also likes golf, skiing and, of course, sex. Her fantasy involves a rainy day, a bottle of champagne and a bag of M&M's. Sounds like a real meltdown!

The rock beneath her isn't the only hard thing when lovely Lee lounges naked. She's a student in Wichita, Kansas, who lists no hobbies, unless one counts this 28-year-old's fantasy of "having" two men at the same time. Having them pick pebbles out of her butt perhaps.

If there's one thing Stephanie likes better than a log between her legs, it's watching a man squirt. An administrator by day, this 23-year-old beauty from Fredricksburg, Virginia, fantasizes about tying a man to a chair and making him watch helplessly while she and another woman have sex.

Thank goodness this student from Daytona Beach, Florida, doesn't wait for Spring Break to get naked. Her name is Tammy, she's 23 years old, and she enjoys shopping and sunbathing. When the sun goes down her fantasy comes up: "To make love on a beach during a full moon." Beware of wolves.

There are no lone stars in Edinburg, Texas, when Mindy lays this "come-hither" look on them. She's a 20-year-old dancer who enjoys dancing in her off hours, as well as hunting, fishing and riding dirt bikes. Her Far Eastern fantasy is to find an Oriental woman to fulfill her and her boyfriend's fantasies. Confucius say, "Suck my pussy!"

Sure she looks innocent, but libidinous Linda fantasizes about being a bachelor-party stripper who gives the groom the wildest night of his life! Until then, she earns her cash as a receptionist in North Hollywood, California. She's a 26-year-old naturalist who enjoys camping, hiking and horseback riding.

Brown shag never looked as good as it does under Michelle's thighs. At 20 years old, she's old enough to dance nude in Hemet, California, but can't drink at the clubs she works. No matter; she likes to stay in shape. Working out and sunbathing are her hobbies; having ten guys jack off onto her body so their girlfriends can lick it off is her excellent fantasy.

The New Yorker magazine reported that in the spring of 1990, Pakistan and India faced off in the most dangerous nuclear confrontation of the postwar era.

Diana Edensword, a research analyst at the Wisconsin Project on Nuclear Arms Control in Washington, D.C., points out that no efficient bookkeeping system was ever put in place in Russia to verify the location and amount of the vast quantity of enriched uranium in the former Soviet Union.

"The Soviets put their emphasis on making bombs," Edensword remarks, "not on keeping track of the nuclear-materials stockpile."

U.S. officials estimate that there are approximately 27,000 strategic and tactical nuclear warheads in the former Soviet Union. Roughly 12,000 are long-range missiles based in Russia, the Ukraine, Belarus and Kazakhstan, while 15,000 short-range weapons are scattered throughout the former Soviet Republics, including the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

Among the many dangers of the loose nuke problem is the possibility that Soviet nuclear scientists will offer expert service and advice to such unstable political hot spots as Iran and Libya. William C. Potter, Director of the Center of Russian and Eurasian Studies at the Mont Institute of International Studies (MISS) refers to an incident in December 1992, when Russian special forces stormed a jet in Moscow and seized 36 nuclear experts allegedly hired by North Korea. Later that December, Russian Security Minister Viktor Barannikov revealed that his forces had prevented another 64 rocket scientists from departing for North Korea during the previous October and November.

Citing a German Federal Intelligence study, an article in the Russian newspaper Izvestiya counted 50 former Soviet nuclear scientists in Iraq, while 14 expatriate nuclear scientists have worked in Iran since 1991, and four more have offered their services to India.

Other Izvestiya reports indicate that China is actively recruiting Russian scientists to help modernize a uranium-enrichment facility. This development seems to have been verified officially in June 1992, when the head of the state security administration in the Krasnoyarsk region of Russia reported that China had sought to recruit personnel from the region's nuclear facilities.

"Iranians [already] have plenty of trained scientists," Kay ascertains. "What they need is [nuclear-weapons grade] material. If tomorrow morning we wake up and hear that the Libyans have 100 kilos of highly enriched uranium or plutonium, we have a problem."

Officially, only six countries have openly announced that they have possession of nuclear armaments: the United States, the former Soviet Union, France, Great Britain, the People's Republic of China [Red China] and South Africa.

However, India and Pakistan are likely members of the nuclear club. The New Yorker magazine reported that in the spring of 1990, Pakistan and India faced off in the most dangerous nuclear confrontation of the postwar era.

"Nuclear smuggling began in the '60s, when the Israelis diverted a ship in the Mediterranean that was carrying African uranium," adds David Kyd. "Most people suspect that [Israel] has the Bomb."

In addition, Iran, Iraq and North Korea have launched their own nuclear-weapons programs.

The CIA believes that 25 countries, many of them potentially hostile to the United States and its allies, may be developing nuclear, biological and chemical weapons.

According to CIA chief Woolsey, North Korea has procured sufficient material for a nuclear weapon. Woolsey predicts that, in eight to ten years, Iran will be able to produce nuclear weapons on its own, and might do so sooner, if it can get foreign help.

That help may be coming from Kazakhstan and the other Muslim republics of the former Soviet Union.

"The major Soviet test site is Kazakhstan, and a lot of uranium comes from there, as well as the other central Asian republics," Kyd asserts. "Iran is their religious cohort; so penetration is easy for Iran."

"There is evidence that state control of the situation in Kazakhstan is inadequate to prevent the diversion of uranium to Iran," admits Thomas Cochran, a Senior Scientist at the Natural Defense Resources Council.

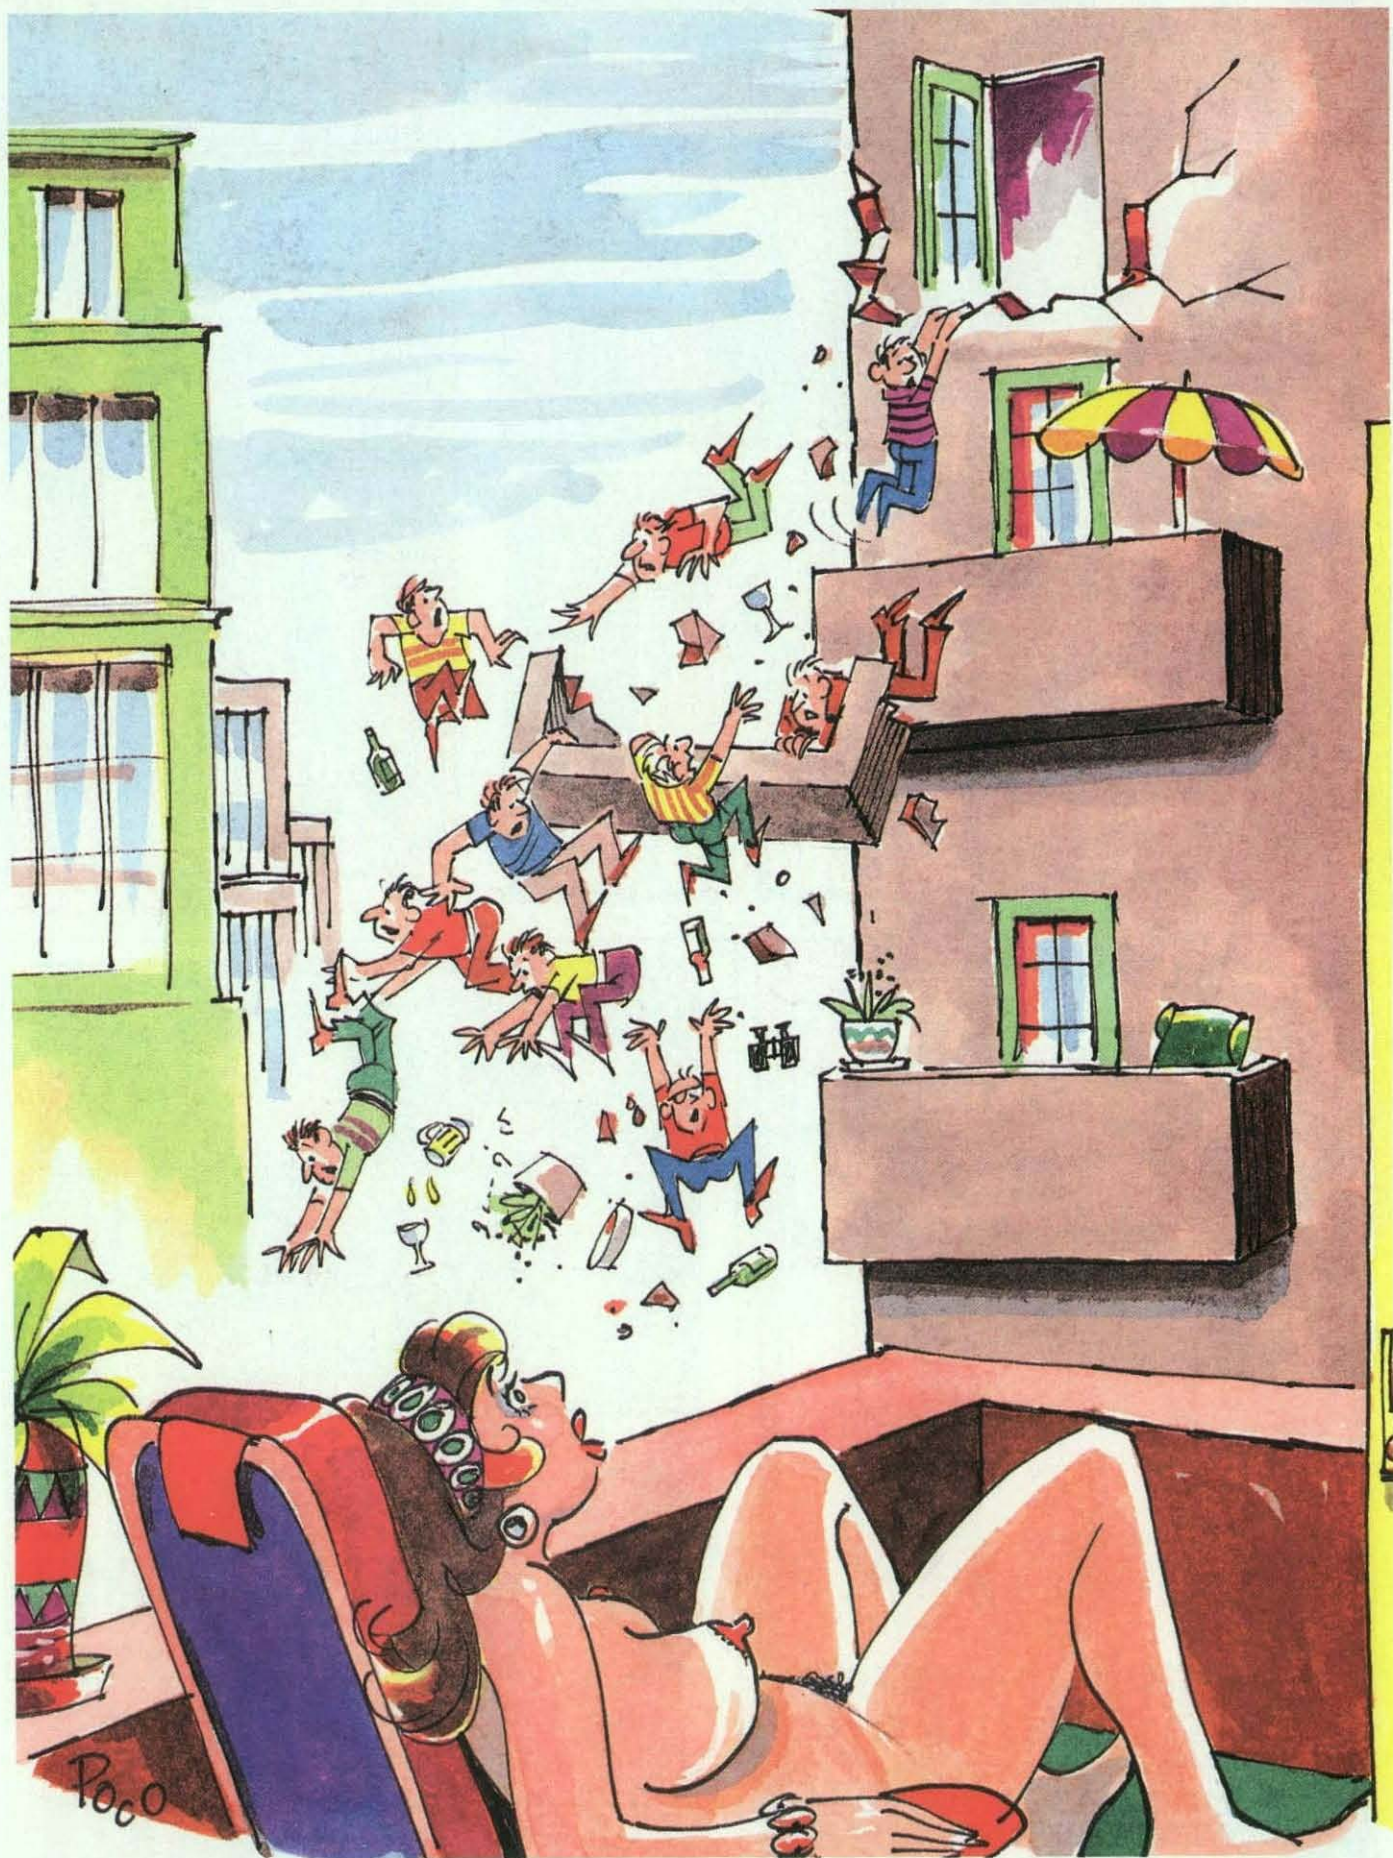

Kyd expects incidents of nuclear terrorism will involve terrorist demands either for political or economic compensation for not exploding a bomb.

"Iran is going to build a nuclear bomb and probably—eventually—make it available to terrorists," agrees Diana Edensword. "There is no way to protect against that kind of threat."

Russian President Boris Yeltsin has shifty-glancing John, completing the betrayal by my core support group.

The entire population and a few of the resident monitors took up the chant: "Alex is hiding something, Alex is hiding something."

I stood there and looked at the raging faces around me. Forgive them, Father, I prayed, for they are a bunch of pathetic shitbirds. Despite my libidinal idiosyncrasies, I knew I didn't belong in this collection of freaks.

"Order, order," ordered Dr. Chester, restoring an outward calm to the riot of innerly tormented souls. "Give Alex a chance to redeem himself. What is your secret, Mr. Marvel? What are you hiding?"

"The only thing I haven't told you," I revealed with some effort, "is that my insurance card is a totally bogus counterfeit. I won't be able to pay for a penny of this treatment."

I'd been remanded to an adjustment cell. A video monitor played some of the most vile pornography I'd ever seen. Mercury-loaded bands had been bound around my penis and wired up to a machine that would chart any blood stirring down there.

"The test is called a plethysmograph," lisped Dr. Chester. The quack sat on the desk, swinging his legs in the limited space between him and the chair I sat in. "According to the monitors, you are far from cured of your sex issues, Mr. Marvel. Money should not be the issue that drives you from recovery," he whispered, looking at me with sick fawn eyes. "We can come to an arrangement. You can apply for disability insurance and enlist in our work-benefit program. You have some skills that would qualify for a high-compensation scale."

The Chester slid off the desk top, knelt before me and put a hand on my knee. My dick shriveled in its mercury corset. The two male nurses moved from the doorway to my chair, in case I should try to escape. I decided that I would kill all three of them, or die in the effort.

The door was kicked in, precluding any fatalities.

"Marvel, you fuck!" bellowed my Scamway distributor, flanked by a platoon of expeditors. "You can't hide from Scamway. We're taking you out of here, whether you like it or not. You've got soap to sell."

I pretended to resist the Scamway comandos, but they got the best of me.

"Come back," puled Dr. Chester from pursed carp lips. "You owe me for four weeks here. I'll come out there after you!"

Dear Dr. Chester: I'm where you can easily find me, living a hard life but a clean life. Come on out. I've got a loaded shotgun, waiting to meet you.

created a new department in the Russian foreign service to keep an eye on nuclear as well as chemical assets in the former Soviet Union and other countries. Legislation has been passed making it illegal to export from Russia material and services that could be used to build an atomic or nuclear bomb. Violators could get as many as ten years in prison.

A law that took effect January 1, 1993, prohibits people with access to state secrets from leaving Russia for up to five years from the time of last contact with said information.

In December 1992, American philanthropist George Soros offered to pay $100 million over two years to keep former Soviet scientists employed. A more permanent development has been the move toward establishing centers to retrain scientists from the Soviet nuclear-weapons establishment.

Experts agree that among the most positive developments is a current effort by the U.S. to carry out negotiations to buy uranium, including the weapons-grade variety, from cash-strapped states like Russia, the Ukraine and Kazakhstan. The uranium would be melted down after purchase and used as fuel in U.S. nuclear-power plants.

Although the figures involved would depend on the pace of nuclear-warhead destruction as well as on the fluctuating market price of uranium, estimates generally put the proposed deal at $5 billion to $5.5 billion over a 20-year period.

As for immediate action, Gordon Thompson, Director of the Institute for Resource and Security Studies in Cambridge, Massachusetts, calls for an international treaty to control all production and use of nuclear weapons-grade material.

"The treaty would ban production of plutonium or highly enriched uranium for any military purpose," Thompson explains. "It would ensure that existing stockpiles and material from dismantled warheads are fully accounted for and stored or disposed of under international inspection."

David Kay bets that, within five years, a terrorist incident involving a nuclear weapon or nuclear weapons-grade material will occur.

"We won't be able to prove it's a hoax; so we will have to treat it as real," Kay explains. "I also predict that, within the next ten years, we are going to see [the criminal detonation of a] nuclear device."

"You can put your clothes back on. The doctor's seen you."

I've Got a Box For You

Hi, my name is Sandy. I'm a "model," if you know what I mean. I'll pose for you in any position you like, alone or with friends of either sex. And if you want to be in the right place at the right time, I'll do a lot more than just pose. In a small town like this there just isn't enough action to keep a girl going. But I love it and don't want to leave. So I'm branching out and trying to make friends all over. Send me $3.00 and I'll rush back my sample box of special photos. Tell me how you want me and I'll try to include some shots to your specifications. Over 18, please.

AFTER MORE THAN 20 YEARS... THE ORIGINAL SUPRA-12 PENIS ENLARGER

OVER 3 MILLION
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

YOU CAN ENLARGE, THICKEN & HARDEN YOUR PENIS TO IT'S MAXIMUM! HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

Is the size of your penis bringing you down? Want to "hang out" where the big boys do? In the neighborhood of nine, ten, eleven inches or more? Then wrap your fist around this hot new package offer which includes the very latest in vacuum pump design and the world's first "personal trainer" video on penis enlargement!

DESIRE IS NOT ENOUGH

The world is literally full of men who have tried to increase their genital measurements - and have failed miserably. The secret of success lies in personal professional instruction such as that supplied by our SUPRA-12 SYSTEM. Here in step-by-step easy to see and understand techniques you will be guided on the path to success! Now, with a simple device you can follow in the footsteps of over 3 million men who have proven that there is a way to INCREASE PENIS SIZE and THICKNESS! A safe and proven natural way to add inches to penis length and thickness.

HOW CAN THE SUPRA-12 VACUUM ENLARGER INCREASE PENIS LENGTH & THICKNESS?

The male erection results from the flow of blood (triggered by stimulation) into hollow chambers inside the penis. As these chambers fill, the penis grows in diameter and length until the chambers are filled to capacity. By increasing the capacity of these chambers (making them bigger), they can hold more blood and the result will be a LONGER, THICKER PENIS. The SUPRA-12 Vacuum Enlarger is the very zenith of technical perfection - the latest in design and comfort - nothing short of "miraculous" in the way they allow you to ACTUALLY SEE YOUR OWN PENIS grow inside the clear, picture window sleeve. Immediately you'll see just how really BIG... how really FAT... how LONG... how HARD and STIFF your own penis can get!

SUPRA-12, THE "ROLLS ROYCE" OF VACUUM ENLARGERS.

These sophisticated instruments are by far the state of the art in penis enhancing machinery. The HEAVY DUTY MANUAL model is a finely crafted precision instrument designed to create the vacuum needed to make the male organ LONG and THICKER. And for the connoisseur, the powerful ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC model (U.L. approved) is equipped to give you continuous even sucking power until you shut it off! The ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC is perfectly safe and as quiet as a whisper.

Accept no substitutes!

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF... TO YOUR SEX PARTNER... TO YOUR SELF-ESTEEM... JOIN THE COUNTLESS OTHER MEN WHO STARTED OUT "AVERAGE" OR "BELOW AVERAGE", AND LEARNED ALL ABOUT MAKING A "BIG" IMPROVEMENT IN THEIR SEX LIVES!!

NEW, IMPROVED ELECTRIC MODEL
Plug-in electric pump provides constant vacuum you control! Complete vacuum occurs gradually for safety and provides relentless vacuum without any physical effort. Ultimate in vacuum pump luxury!

"The quality remains long after the price is forgotten."
Sir Henry Royce (Rolls Royce)

PENIS ENLARGEMENT

SUCCESSFUL RESULTS for 20 years with more than 3 million men!!

SEE
BELOW

INCREASES UP TO 3 INCHES!
ERECT MEASUREMENTS UP TO 12
INCHES OR YOUR MAXIMUM POTENTIAL!

To reach your maximum potential you must have the BEST Pump... the BEST Instructional Video or magazine... and one more bonus: THE BEST PRICE!

WHAT IS THE BEST PUMP?

First of all, a quality pump constructed of the finest materials tested and tried and used successfully for over 20 years. Our pump will give your penis increases in length and diameter you've never dreamed possible. Up to 10 inches, even 12 inches... or your maximum potential. And you'll see this dramatic increase in size grow right before your very eyes through the clear view housing!

OUR PUMP IS THE SAME TYPE OF PUMP PRESCRIBED BY DOCTORS THAT SELL UPWARDS OF $500 TO HELP MEN PRODUCE AN INSTANT, DYNAMIC, ROCK-HARD, THROBBING ERECTION!

THE BEST STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTIONAL VIDEO AND MAGAZINE!

Okay... suppose you do have the BEST pump money can buy- but now what do you do with it? Do you know how to use it properly? This is important! Our BEST instructional video tape and magazine shows you, step-by-step, how to harness the energy of our powerful penis enlarger- and we do mean POWERFUL! Much more than any pump available at any price! The BEST instructional video tape and magazine are easy to follow and guarantees you will understand how to use our pump. They were produced for the sole purpose of ensuring your immediate success with a longer, thicker, harder penis.

From the moment you begin using our penis enlarger you can expect dramatic increases up to 3 inches, and reach your maximum potential with a rock-hard, throbbing penis that will allow you to penetrate your sex partner deeper than ever before!

HOW ABOUT THE PRICE?

Let's face it, when you decide to purchase an effective penis enlargement pump to increase the size of your penis, the most important thing to you is the quality of the pump itself. So while instruction in its correct use- through a video or magazine- is important, the cost of the tape is still less than that of the high quality pump that we're offering. Ask yourself how other companies can charge $25 or more for their package... and $20 of that price is for the tape! Does that mean you're going to trust your penis to the quality of a $5 PUMP?! Do yourself a favor, don't take chances. Our pump is the BEST available, and that's why we're almost giving the tape (or magazine) away to prove it! We want you to enjoy every potential of your sex life... not ruin it with a $5 pump. We think you'll agree with us that our system is the only one you can feel confident with. We wouldn't sell it if it wasn't. Remember, we offer successful results for 20 years with more than 3 million men!

CAUTION: We do not offer an electric model. Electricity with liquid, gels or perspiration should not be used together. You need superior stroking action to increase penis size, not an ordinary vibrating massage unit.

NEXT MONTH IN HUSTLER

November HUSTLER on sale August 31, 1993

FIST FIRST

HUSTLER in November beats the autumn chill by flushing cheeks with pink. Light up the public end of private fantasy with a bright-blond, nipple-studded show-off spreading her ambition on a bare center stage; lasso the silken threads of an angel-haired beauty freshly primped, powdered, trussed with rope and topped with a spiked collar; fit a crack in the jigsaw gyrations of two clit-struck coeds banging little, white socks and grinding gash in an outdoor parking lot; salute the standing tits of a tight-thighed, nut-brown pool sitter oiling up her hard body for easy fun; and pop in on the grunge fuck of a hard-dicked dude and squishy tailed chick in an end-of-the-world desert wasteland. Fall's headed up in HUSTLER in November. Grab on.

KILLER QUOTES

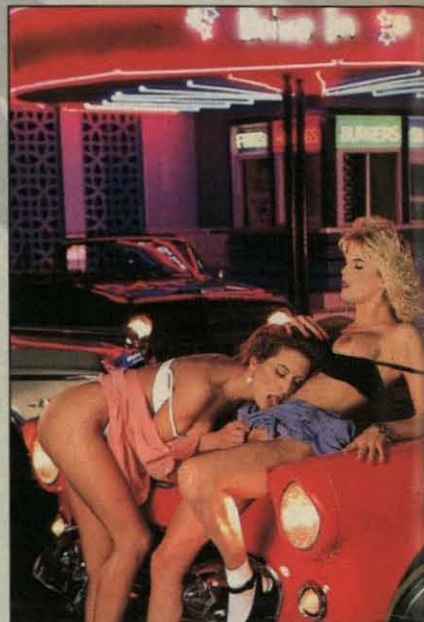

"An evildoer believes that what he does is right, as much as a good person knows that his actions are right. Who is to question who?" HUSTLER readers—hold on for the scariest scoop of the year. Executive Editor Allan MacDonell dropped in on famed-and-feared Night Stalker Richard Ramirez to chat about murder, evisceration and necrophilia in Tales From the Dark Side, a gripping Q & A with the man who terrorized a nation. Among topics such as murder, sex and celebrity, Ramirez breaks his silence about Satanism. "Legions of the night," sayeth the Stalker, "are the people that exult in the hour of darkness in which the power of evil is exalted." Warning: This feature is definitely not for the faint of heart.

LAW ON AN HOURLY WAGE

In too many cases, traditional means of law enforcement provide temporary relief, but cannot prevent drug dealers from making decent neighborhoods uninhabitable. Increasingly, peace-loving communities are reclaiming dealer-infested buildings with the paid services of urban mercenaries, whose methods blur the line between legal intervention and criminal assault. Peace of mind leaves little room for worry about civil rights, search-and-seizure laws and the presumption of innocence. Desperate tenants call paid head-bashers miracle workers. Victims of such service call it assault and battery. Writer Chick Leonard's Peace for a Price reveals the up- and downside of the hottest—and most successful—trend in civic beautification programs: paid protection.

OUT AND ABOUT

Join jiggling joygirl Amber Lynn in fabulous Cannes, France, as the much-uncovered poon pro scores a Lifetime Achievement Award at the Hot D'Or festivities—the X-biz's Academy Awards—courtesy of HUSTLER's Erotic Entertainment for November; Hot Letters steams open the pithiest postal procreation; Beaver Hunt rings door-to-door and racks muffs wall-to wall; and Bits & Pieces celebrates the arctic season with watery jokes that come cold and go stiff. HUSTLER in November is one lucky bird in the hand. Stuff it.
